Course Objectives
Students will:
- Become familiar with written and recorded material about British society and culture during the two world wars via a programme of individual study, lectures, field study visits and discussion.
- Develop critical awareness via research, interpretation and analysis of a range of historical data.
- Enhance their communication skills via written assignments and scholarly discussion.

Course Overview
This course aims to acquaint students with ways in which the two world wars influenced British society and changed social identities. It engages with dimensions of gender, race/ethnicity and class, and seeks to enhance understanding of historical specificity via exploration and evaluation of English (mostly urban) war experiences.

No prior specialist knowledge of military history, war technology or international relations is necessary and all course material should be readily comprehended by liberal arts students. Students will be expected to read beyond the required minimum in order to advance well-informed and independent arguments in their work. They will be required to locate and analyse secondary and some primary material, demonstrating comprehension and understanding via coherent, intelligent engagement in class discussion, seminar presentations, a quiz and a written exam. Students will also be required to summarise their research findings in the form of a scholarly essay.
Course Methodology

This course will be taught over nine four-hour sessions. Teaching methodology will vary but discussion in class will typically refer to the required reading/viewing, as well as perspectives and propositions advanced during the lecture. For example, the first lecture will summarise key elements that contributed to Britain’s involvement in the First World War and introduce students to critical appreciation of national identity as an aspect of an “imagined community.” Class discussion will test and encourage development of student awareness of contemporary influences contributing to “war enthusiasm”, including ideology, power and divisions of class, gender, and race/ethnicity. Field study visits, directed exploration, seminar work will entail brief presentations by individual students.

Assessment

Class participation/Seminar presentation: 15%
Research Paper [2000 words]: 40%
End of course written exam: 35%
Quiz: [14 September] 10%
