

DUBLIN, IRELAND > ENGINEERING ABROAD

ENGINEERING COURSES

Students enrolled in this program will choose four engineering courses from DCU's extensive course offerings.

ELECTIVE COURSES

Students will choose one, 4-credit elective course from the following courses offered by BU's Dublin Internship Program:

CAS EN 392 Modern Irish Literature
CFA AR 340 The Arts in Ireland

Dublin Engineering Program

The Dublin Engineering Program offers upper division engineering students the opportunity to take technical and engineering courses through local university study at Dublin City University (DCU).

Students in the Dublin Engineering Program enroll directly in DCU, a modern and fast-growing university four miles north of the city center of Dublin, Ireland. www.dcu.ie

The Rewards Are Many:

- Exposure to another culture in preparation for technical careers in the global economy
- Study of engineering and science in an advanced international environment
- Guided excursions and support through Boston University in Dublin

HOUSING

Students are housed in double bedrooms in suite-style accommodations on the DCU campus. Each bedroom is equipped with Internet access and its own bathroom. Students have full access to the facilities and services of DCU. The suites feature full kitchens and seating areas, and are a short walk from BU's administrative offices, the DCU library, bookstore, and athletic facilities. Students are housed with other BU study abroad students.

ADMISSIONS

- DCU's admissions criteria require student abroad students to have a minimum overall GPA of 3.0
- Many courses carry prerequisites
