Course Overview

This course will discuss some of the most important and controversial issues in contemporary British law. It is not a law course as such, but rather seeks to place the issues in their social, political and ethical context. Comparisons will be made throughout with wider European legal issues and those of the USA. It will focus on the origins of these issues and will analyse the diverse methodological and theoretical positions taken in explaining and understanding them. It will also draw on empirical illustration of the various issues from the current events. Furthermore, it will investigate the main agents and actors involved in the chosen topics.

The choice of topics has been based on issues that raise interesting and topical concerns. Despite the diversity of topics, the course is designed to enable students to achieve a critical understanding of different approaches to the study of law together with knowledge of, and sensitivity to, the complexity and diversity of law in different societies.

On successful completion of the course students should be able to demonstrate a good knowledge and understanding of some of the vocabulary of British law and the languages of jurisprudential debate and confrontation. They should be able to analyse critically a range of theories, concepts, and methods employed in the legal and associated disciplines and evidence judged by these perspectives. They should, in addition, be able to engage in an informed assessment and criticism of these positions. Above all, they should be able to adopt an independent, critical and reflective approach to a number of important current issues confronting contemporary societies.

Attendance

Important note for students on the Internship Programme:

The rules governing Internship Programme students' UK visas are strict and require, as a condition of the student's presence in the United Kingdom, that the student participates fully in all classes and in the placement. If a student does not attend classes or his/her placement as required the student will be considered to be in breach of the visa and can be deported. As the sponsor of our students' visas, Boston University has the legal obligation to ensure that each student complies with visa requirements.

For that reason Boston University Study Abroad London Programmes requires full attendance in classes and placements. Any student who does not comply with this policy may be sent home from the program at the discretion of the programme directors, and will result in a forfeit of credit and program costs for part or all of the semester.

Classes

All Boston University Study Abroad London Programme students are expected to attend each and every class session, tutorial, and field trip in order to fulfill the required course contact hours and receive course credit. Any student that has been absent from two class sessions (whether authorised or unauthorised) will need to meet with the Directors to discuss their continued participation on the programme.

Authorised Absence:

Students who expect to be absent from any class should notify a member of Academic Affairs and complete an Authorized Absence Approval Form 10 working days in advance of the class date (except in the case of absence due to illness, for which students should submit the Authorised Absence Approval Form with the required doctor's note as soon as possible). Please note: Submitting an Authorised Absence Approval Form does not guarantee an authorised absence

Students may apply for an authorised absence only under the following circumstances:

- Illness, supported by a local London doctor's note (submitted with Authorised Absence Approval Form).
- Important placement event that clashes with a class (verified by internship supervisor)
- Special circumstances which have been approved by the Directors (see note below).

The Directors will only in the most extreme cases allow students to leave the programme early or for a significant break.

Unauthorised Absence:

Any student to miss a class due to an unauthorised absence will receive a 4% grade penalty to their final grade for the course whose class was missed. This grade penalty will be applied by the Academic Affairs office to the final grade at the end of the course. As stated above, any student that has missed two classes will need to meet with the Directors to discuss their participation on the programme as excessive absences may result in a 'Fail' in the class and therefore expulsion from the programme.

Lateness

Students arriving more than 15 minutes after the posted class start time will be marked as late. Any student with irregular class attendance (more than two late arrivals to class) will be required to meet with the Assistant Director of Academic Affairs and if the lateness continues, may have his/her final grade penalised.

Methodology

There will be lectures, short documentary films and specialist talks by expert guest lecturers. Students will be encouraged to participate in interactive discussions during lectures as well as delivering a formal presentation. In most lectures detailed handouts will be distributed so that more time can be devoted to listening and discussing and less to writing.

Assessment

There are three elements to the assessment. Each student will be required to write a 3000-word paper on an agreed subject, worth 40% of the final grade. Each student will be asked to give a presentation in the final class prior to finalising the paper. The presentation is not part of the assessment but does count towards the participation mark. There will be a two-hour final examination worth 50% and 10% will be allocated for participation and attendance.

Your grades will be based on the following criteria: the relevance of your answer to the topic chosen, clarity of expression and continuity, explicit evidence of having read the main information and arguments in the required and supplementary reading. In addition, extra credit will be given for the strategic use of up-to-date illustrative material from the press or other media that you may have gathered during the course.

Grading

Please refer to the Academic Handbook for detailed grading criteria and policies on plagiarism: <http://www.bu.edu/london/current-semester>

 Final Grades are subject to deductions by the Academic Affairs Office due to unauthorised absences.*

Readings

The readings for each topic will be indicated weekly from the following texts:
