Instructor Information

A. Name          Professor Alan Read
B. Day and Time  Mondays and Tuesdays, 1.15-5.15pm (plus Wednesday Orientation
                Week class, and Friday Contingency Class if added)
                Followed by Monday, Tuesday or Thursday evening performances:
                Check schedule carefully and note the theatre visit dates as these cannot be changed, and final off site class that ends at 5.00pm in Whitechapel.
C. BU Telephone  By appointment
D. Email
E. Office hours  By appointment

Course Objectives

TH 508 British Contemporary Theatre and Performance examines the production of current theatre and performance in London with an emphasis on staged performance and written texts. The course concentrates on the witness of live performance, the discussion and exploration of the cultural context of performances seen and the development of historical understanding of the emergence of the phenomena called ‘British Contemporary Theatre’. This category is not taken as a given but a term to be contested and argued over with a view to developing the student’s coherence of critical aptitude and expression. This is high level course and while it is unlikely the student will have encountered the specifics of British theatre before there is the expectation that students will be in a position to frame arguments, to think critically and to express themselves clearly and confidently with regard to their own particular experience of artistic practice as engaged with through the course.

Course Overview

TH 508 British Contemporary Theatre and Performance takes a beginning point from post second world war political, social and cultural context and the theatre that emerged from the generation of 1950s writing including John Osborne with Look Back in Anger and Samuel Beckett with Waiting for Godot. The course additionally takes its bearings from the theatre that is currently in production in London drawing on a range of practices including mainstream and fringe venues. On occasions set texts will provide complimentary evidence to consider alongside productions seen. These will be drawn from set plays or critical texts and material drawn from the daily newspapers.
Methodology

The course will be taught through a combination of lecture and seminar session. Each session will include direct informational input from the tutor raising historical, cultural and critical questions for discussion as well as seminar session dedicated to more open critical discussion of the plays seen together as a group. Video screenings will bring critical evidence of performance into the classroom where appropriate. Presence at evening theatre events (see following schedule) as well as attendance at all classes is imperative for successful completion of the course. Theatre visits are working sessions (as well as social occasions) and as such are factored into the hours of the course. Taking into account a proportion of ‘theatre hours’ the course delivers well over the required minimum of class time. To ensure students are able to arrive at performances and prepare for the following day’s class some adjustments may be made to course schedule as the course proceeds, each will be notified to all students well in advance but please be prepared for some flexibility as we proceed.

All students are expected to complete six hours of reading and writing outside class time in each week. This reading could usefully be done using the modest in scale, but excellent library resources either side of the group sessions and there is an extensive reading list of material available on the BU London Programmes study site.

A Course Reader will also be distributed before the first class, which carries critical hard to source texts for discussion. This Reader needs to be brought to each and all classes for reference and annotation.

NB: Please note carefully the important site visits that act as a critical aspect of the course. These do not take place at Harrington Gardens and students should check locations of sessions and start times carefully especially if, for whatever reason, they have missed the class before the site visit. This is particularly important for the site visit to the Royal Courts of Justice.

Readings

Critical readings from the Course Reader as directed week by week.

Readings from the course reader and webpage as instructed are essential for class preparation and should be completed before the session indicated.

Osborne, John: Look Back In Anger

Designated Passages from following works as course proceeds (there are multiple copies available on loan in the BU London library):

Read, Alan: Theatre in the Expanded Field: Seven Approaches to Performance (2013)

For students requiring background context reading to twentieth century UK theatre:

Innes, Christopher, Modern British Drama, 1890-1990.

Additional readings will be posted on Blackboard: http://learn.bu.edu
Students will be guided to other reading as the course proceeds. Students should consider theatre events as primary source of research. While they are not read as texts on the page, performances (form is at the heart of the word) are structured as signifying systems that can be read like any other text for meanings as well as experienced as the generator of feelings and affects.

Assessment Pattern

50% A 2000 word research paper including bibliography and notes exploring a specific topic that has emerged from study and theatre witness as part of the course. Credit will be given to students who respond to the assessment criteria below.

25% A 20 minute oral presentation made with notes (but not read) based on the Theatre Capital presentation made in Session 7. Students are asked to form pairs with whom they know they can work effectively. Presentations will be made in Session 7 (Tuesday 26th September).

25% Class participation, active presence, quality of listening and peer group support, discussion contributions.

Grading Criteria

In all assessment elements of the course a combination of 5 criteria of achievement are assessed:

COCOE:
Coherence of thought
Organisation of materials
Critical aptitude
Originality of perception
Effort in preparation and participation

Grading

Please refer to the Academic Handbook for detailed grading criteria and policies on plagiarism: http://www.bu.edu/london/current-semester

* Final Grades are subject to deductions by the Academic Affairs Office due to unauthorised absences.

Attendance Policy

Classes

All Boston University London Programme students are expected to attend each and every class session, seminar, and field trip in order to fulfil the required course contact hours and receive course credit. Any student that has been absent from two class sessions (whether authorised or unauthorised) will need to meet with the Directors to discuss their continued participation on the programme.

Authorised Absence:

Students who expect to be absent from any class should notify a member of Academic Affairs and complete an Authorized Absence Approval Form 10 working days in advance of the class date (except in the case of absence due to illness for more than one day. In this situation students should submit the Authorised Absence Approval Form with the required doctor’s note as soon as possible). The Authorised Absence Approval Request Form is available from: http://www.bu.edu/london/current-semester/
Please note: Submitting an Authorised Absence Approval Form does not guarantee an authorised absence

Students may apply for an authorised absence only under the following circumstances:

- Illness (first day of sickness): If a student is too ill to attend class, the student must phone the BU London Student Affairs Office (who will in turn contact the student’s lecturer).
- Illness (multiple days): If a student is missing more than one class day due to illness, the student must call into the BU London Student Affairs Office each day the student is ill. Students must also provide the Student Affairs office with a completed Authorised Absence Approval Form and a sick note from a local doctor excusing their absence from class.
- Important placement event that clashes with a class (verified by internship supervisor)
- Special circumstances which have been approved by the Directors (see note below).

The Directors will only in the most extreme cases allow students to leave the programme early or for a significant break.

Unauthorised Absence:
Any student to miss a class due to an unauthorised absence will receive a 4% grade penalty to their final grade for the course whose class was missed. This grade penalty will be applied by the Academic Affairs office to the final grade at the end of the course. As stated above, any student that has missed two classes will need to meet with the Directors to discuss their participation on the programme as excessive absences may result in a ‘Fail’ in the class and therefore expulsion from the programme.

Religious Holidays
Boston University’s Office of the University Registrar states:

‘The University, in scheduling classes on religious holidays and observances, intends that students observing those traditions be given ample opportunity to make up work. Faculty members who wish to observe religious holidays will arrange for another faculty member to meet their classes or for cancelled classes to be rescheduled.’

Special Accommodations
Each student will need to contact the Office of Disability Services to request accommodations for the semester they are abroad. Students are advised by BU-ODS not to expect the same accommodations as they receive on campus.

BU London can only uphold special accommodations if we have received the appropriate documentation from the BU-ODS. We cannot accept letters from other universities/centres.

All disabilities need to be known to the ODS in Boston if they are to be used as a reason for requiring a change in conditions, i.e. reduced internship hours or special accommodations for the internship schedule.

Lateness
Students arriving more than 15 minutes after the posted class start time will be marked as late. Any student with irregular class attendance (more than two late arrivals to class) will be required to meet with the Associate Director for Academic Affairs and if the lateness continues, may have his/her final grade penalised.

CFA TH 508 SCHEDULE OF CLASSES AND THEATRE VISITS

Spring 2018

Wednesday 17th January, 13.15-17.15
Session 1: Drama, Theatre and Performance in the Expanded Field

Introduction to Drama, Theatre and Performance Studies

Readings in Class from Course Reader: Yates, Ridout, Brecht

Subject position and performance.

Introduction to critical strategies drawn from Phenomenology and Semiotics

Theatre in the expanded field of performance: Subject Position and Perspective as sources and modes of critical response

Readings from Course Reader: Walser, Dickens, Schechner

Video Images as sources of performativity

Reading and Exercise for Session 2:

Review reading and notes from Session 1 and draw a Venn diagram laying out the relations as you understand them between Drama, Theatre, Performance, Dance, Mime, Representation, Visual Arts, Sport, Ceremony etc. Keep this Venn Diagram in your notes and add to it as course proceeds.

For Session 2 Read: ‘Lay Theatre’, Chapter 1 from Theatre & Everyday Life, (1993) Alan Read (Multiple copies available in BU Library)

Monday 22nd January, 13.15-17.15
Session 2: Theatre Capital I: Lay Theatre: Politics and Theatre in London’s Docklands

Introduction to Critical Methods with particular regard for considering performance and theatre practices.

Relations between ‘amateur’, ‘community’, ‘grassroots’ and ‘professional’ theatre in London.

Introduction to Lay Theatre and the history of Rotherhithe Theatre Workshop

Discussion

Screening of: The Foolish Young Man, Directed by Jeremy Weller
Discussion

Theatre Visit 1: John, Annie Barker, Dir: James MacDonald. National Theatre (Dorfman Theatre), South Bank. NOTE START TIME: 7.00pm. Arrive at National no later than 6.40pm as theatres are hard to negotiate within the building.

Exercise for Session 3:

Write up a single page of informal notes on John, paying attention to what is distinctively theatrical about what you have seen (in other words considering what you would have missed should you have just read rather than seen and heard the play.

These notes will not be collected in nor assessed but will provide an outline for your discussion in Session 3 that will be assessed as part of overall class participation.

Tuesday 23rd January, 13.15-17.15
Session 3: Theatre Capital II: The City Performs

Seminar discussion of John

Theatre Capital: The City Performs: Presentation and Preparation for student Theatre Capital Presentations in 8th session of class on Monday 12th February.

Tutor Presentation: Theatre Capital

Discussion

Reading for Sessions 4 and 5:

Read Look Back in Anger by John Osborne. Available in multiple copies if BU Library.

Monday 29th January, 13.15-17.15

Session 4: Theatre, Politics and the Royal Court Tradition

Introduction to European Political Tradition in Theatre: Bertolt Brecht

Pre and Post War Britain and Theatre: The End of Deference

The Royal Court tradition and Look Back in Anger

Screening of Auslander Raus!, a film by Paul Poet after the work of Christof Schlingensief (2000).

Discussion of the work of Christof Schlingensief paying particular attention to urban manifestation of performance, politics of representation/representation of politics, constitution of publics and counter-publics.

Exercise for this week: Consider your notes from the Theatre Capital presentation, and define your possible areas of interest for further development in Week 3.

Reading for Session 5: Theatre & Law, Part One. Multiple copies available in BU library
Evening Theatre Visit 2: Twilight: Los Angeles, 1992. Anna Deveare Smith. The Gate Theatre, Notting Hill. 7.30pm. Arrive no later than 7.15. The Gate Theatre is above a nice pub in Notting Hill so arrive early if you want a drink.

Tuesday 30th January, NOTE TIME: 13.45-17.15

Session 5: Theatre & Law: The Royal Courts of Justice

ALL students to have read Theatre & Law, Part One, PRIOR to this visit.

NB this session will NOT take place at BU but at the Royal Courts of Justice, the Strand. Entrance from 13.45pm. Nearest tube: Temple. Turn left out of Temple tube, go up stairs and up street ahead. Turn right at lights at top and Royal Courts are on the far side of the road about 100 metres along past St Clements Church which sits in island.

Meet promptly at the main entrance door. Ensure you bring the following notes with you for guidance as once inside the court rooms there is no means to reconnect the group. You are at liberty to leave when you wish having followed the following instructions:

Theatricality is inherent to state apparatuses of law, military, and education. The Law Courts on the Strand, Holland Park Comprehensive School, the House of Commons, Wormwood Scrubs Prison or the Anatomy Theatre at Guy’s Hospital, London Bridge, would all give insights to the formal relationship between scopic control, auditory engagement, audience/witness policing.

Each of these more or less performative sites raise questions about theatricality and should be separated out from, and carefully distinguished from the licensed regimes of theatre. They are not theatres, and all the world is not a stage despite what someone said, rather there are specific genealogical continuities and interruptions identifiable between these various and wholly distinct arenas for practice and power.

Site Visit: There are at least two ways to engage with this site visit and as long as you fulfill both aspects of this session you are liberty to move about as you wish. The goal of this site visit is to observe and reflect upon the performative nature of legal practices. The choices you make during the session should further this goal rather than the general sense of interest in gaining access to high court proceedings (fascinating as they are). You are at liberty to leave when the sessions break but do stay on if you are engaged with something interesting so that can to make as much use of the court sitting as possible.

As we know from the Theatre Capital presentation in week 1 ‘all the world is not a stage’ and you are therefore advised to move on from one focus to another if it does not seem to be delivering anything of performance interest or understanding. Some of the court proceedings could be inherently dramatic (probably criminal cases are the best bet here) while those proceedings of civil courts might be bogged down in the detailed minutiae of legal argument. It might of course be the other way around – last week I saw a fascinating defence of copyright with one barrister defending a computing gaming company against another in a very heightened defence.

When you arrive at the Courts you will be security checked so carry as little as possible with you. When you have been security checked you should all check the Daily Cause List to see the timings of the various courts and their morning/afternoon business schedule. The Cause List notes the proceedings and court numbers for the day and will not mean that much to you on first sight.
The Royal Courts of Justice are an Appeal Court and combine hearings of a civil and criminal nature in different courts. You are free to walk in all public areas, which are surprisingly open.

Route 1: Tour

When you have checked the Cause List if you do not see a session that catches your eye follow the walk in the booklet provided. Ensure that you take careful notice of the iconography of legal practices on the walls as you move around, check out the legal costuming area on the first floor at the end of the main gallery, observe the architecture of the Courts of Justice, find your way through to the Bear Garden (not Beer) and consider how this operates, check for yourselves the ceremony of the Quit Rents and think about the relationship here between traditional performance ceremony and legal power. While you are walking you might also look out or the name of the current Queen’s Remembrancer and later try to find out what the remembrancer does and why what they are remembering.

Route 2: Observation of Proceeding

Do not worry if a case does not jump out at you to see. Find your way to a selected or random court-room and look through the window to see what is happening. If the door is open go into the court and sit in one of the two back rows open to the public. Look at everything that is happening in the courtroom, from costuming to space, from architecture to gestures, listen to language carefully and the rhetorics of advocacy and defence.

The point here is not to agree or not whether there is a theatrical element to this, it is self evident that there is and always has been, but rather how specifically these sites operate as sites of performance, how performance itself shapes the discourses that are underway there and how your understanding from reading widely in this course the very form of the law itself is caught up with questions of performance.

Reflection: When you leave write up your notes as soon as you can while they are fresh and prepare a page of informal notes for class discussion.

Monday 5th February, 13.15-17.15
Session 6: Live Art and Performance

Seminar Discussion of Twilight

Seminar discussion of Law Courts Visit

The session will feature a lecture-performance of the Live Art Performance Pack DIY Performance, as written by the artist Joshua Sofer.

This presentation will prepare students for the Tate Modern visit on Tuesday 6th February

Reading for Session 7: Preparation for Tate Modern visit: All students to check the Tate Modern web site to familiarise themselves with current exhibitions and displays.

Tuesday 6th February 14.00-17.00 (NOTE START AND END TIME)
Session 7: Performance and the Visual Turn
NB Class will take place at Tate Modern (ten minute walk from Southwark Station on Jubilee Tube Line) not at Harrington Gardens, nor at Tate Britain which is a different gallery in Pimlico.

(We have use of the education room at Tate for a slot so please be on time. If you arrive early there is a great bookshop on the ground floor at bottom of ramp of Turbine Hall (not Switch House). If you arrive late come right through on the ground floor beyond the education area and into the Education rooms far space with white long desks.)

Meet at Tate Modern main bookshop at bottom of main ramp entrance to ground floor of vast Turbine Hall (not at small bookshop on first floor by entrance from Millennium Bridge, or larger bookshop in Switch House). Come prepared with a pen and notebook but do not carry a heavy bag as you will be on your feet for a couple of hours.

Tate Modern, Live Art and the Visual Arts: A group visit to Tate Modern to explore the performative strand within contemporary visual arts. A worksheet will be distributed on the day of the visit to maximise the effectiveness of the visit.

The Tate session will run from 2.00pm until 5.00pm. You will then be free to do as you wish following the session.

At Tate there are 4 Permanent exhibition themes and spaces, and a number of temporary spaces (for instance see: Project Space, Artists Rooms, etc. Details of all displays will be in the Tate handout that will guide you through your visit that I will circulate to you on the day).

Theatre Visit 3: NB NOTE DATE: THURSDAY 8th February, Theatre Visit 3: Viktor, Dance Theatre Wuppertal Pina Bausch, Sadlers Wells Theatre. This is one of only four performances of this remarkable work by one of Europe’s leading choreographers. Special arrangements have been made to book for this performance. Please ensure you do not book anything to clash with it.

* Contingency Class Date: Friday 9 February Students are obligated to keep this date free to attend class should any class dates need to be rescheduled.

Exercise for Session 8:

Write up a single page of informal notes on Viktor, paying attention to how one might consider this choreographic work to relate to the theatre and performance you have been discussing. These notes will not be collected in nor assessed but will provide an outline for your discussion in Session 7 that will be assessed as part of overall class participation.

Monday 12th February 13.15-17.15

Session 8: Theatre Capital Presentations

Student presentations and discussions. A twenty-minute oral presentation (15 minutes delivery, 5 minutes for questions) based on earlier Theatre Capital photo session working with a limit of 12 images.

ALL students must have checked their presentations before this session and be confident that they are prepared to show images and discuss them in rotation.
On arrival at class at 13.00 draw up a list on the white board of a chosen order for your presentations. This should take into account any switching that might be necessary between the use of personal lap tops, flash drive etc and be designed to make the running of the presentations as smooth as is possible through the afternoon. Draw up a list of presentations on the white board to the side including the names of the paired presenters.

Seminar discussion of Tate Modern visit.

Seminar discussion of Viktor.

Theatre Visit 4: Alison Jackson: Shot to Fame. Soho Theatre, 21 Dean Street, Soho.

Trigger Warning: Alison Jackson is well known for her provocative photo-montages of celebrities and politicians played by uncanny lookalikes staged in compromising circumstances. While this short sharp show purports to be an exploration of ‘Fake News’ it might just be a light cabaret style evening typical of the Soho Theatre, or a serious attempt to get behind the scenes of what Guy Debord called ‘The Society of the Spectacle’. Let’s see. Don’t be late for this one as it is cabaret style seating and you may find yourself involved whether you like it or not, if you wander in late (especially if you bear any resemblance to a celebrity).

Tuesday 13th February 13.15-17.15

Session 9: Theatre in the Third Age

Seminar discussion of Shot to Fame.

Class Revision and Essay Completion

A discussion of the natural limits to performance and those who challenge those limits. Amongst those are the company of Young At Heart, a group of performers from Northampton mass who are in their third age, ranging from 70-95 years of age. They sing rock n roll.

Screening of: Young at Heart, Walker George Films.

They say:

The 2006 Walker George documentary “Young @ Heart”, originally broadcast on Channel 4 television in the UK, won two Rose d’Or awards, the LA Film Festival Audience Award, screened at Sundance in 2008 and in April 2008 Fox Searchlight released it in North American cinemas. More recently the film has been released in cinemas around the world including the UK, France, Belgium, Holland, Switzerland, Germany, New Zealand, and Japan. In 2008 the film won the Audience Award at the Sydney Film Festival, the Paris Cinema International Film Festival, Ghent Film Festival, Atlanta Film Festival, Bergen International Film Festival, Warsaw Film Festival and others. The film aired in January 2010 on the PBS series “Independent Lens”.

Completion of Class Feedback Sheets.

Friday 16th February NOTE TIME: 14.00 – 17.00

Session 10: Theatre of the Natural World

This last session take place at the Whitechapel Gallery, 77-82 Whitechapel High Street, London, E1 7QX, NOT at Harrington Gardens.
Meet in FOYER of GALLERY at 2.00pm.

For our final session we will make a class outing site visit to the Whitechapel Gallery in which we will turn our attention outwards from the classroom to questions of nature, environment, land and the politics of expulsion and how performance relates to these critical questions. There can be no better place to start considering these themes than amidst the installations of:

Mark Dion, Theatre of the Natural World

As the Whitechapel puts it:

Explorer, collector, activist and conjuror of theatrical environments American artist Mark Dion (b.1961) has travelled through rainforests and rubbish dumps to reveal the wonder and fragility of life on earth. Dion uses specimens – natural and manmade – to make uncanny representations of these environments. His drawings, sculptures and installations draw on the techniques of scientific enquiry and museum display; and on the telling of natural histories.

We embark on a journey through a sequence of installations created between 2000 and the present. A scholar’s study invites us to unravel intricate drawings and models; while the Bureau for the Centre of the Study for Surrealism and its Legacy displays the strange magic of obsolete things. The muddy banks of the Thames have also yielded their treasures for poetic display in a gigantic cabinet; while a Dickensian Curiosity Shop tempts us with the bizarre aura of American bric-a-brac. Each immersive environment is also a habitat, evoking the characters that observe, conserve or exploit the natural world.

End of Class Schedule.

Class paper submissions:

All students must be prepared and available in person to submit a hard copy of their research paper in to the Student Affairs Office between 10am - 4pm on Tuesday 20th February. PLEASE check this date with your own instructions from the administrative office as they take precedence.

Supplementary Reading for class as and when directed:

Assigned reading will be offered from on line resource pack and from library from the following works which are all held in hard copy.

Your Tutor:

Alan Read was a graduate of the first year of the single honours Drama degree at Exeter University and took a PhD at the University of Washington in Seattle. His first work involved coordinating the Council of Europe Workshop on Theatre and Communities for Dartington College of Arts and co-editing with Peter Hulton the publication Theatre Papers. Alan Read was Director of Rotherhithe Theatre Workshop in the Docklands area of South East London in the 1980s, a freelance writer on performance in Barcelona and then Director of Talks at the Institute of Contemporary Talks in the 1990s, and was appointed Roehampton University’s first Professor of Theatre in 1997.

Since 2006 Alan Read has been Professor of Theatre at King's College London on the Strand where, from within the English department and through his project the Performance Foundation, he has been developing King’s approach to performance and theatre with his departmental and school colleagues. As part of this work and in collaboration with the Centre for e Research and King’s Estates the Anatomy Theatre and Museum on the Strand and the Inigo Rooms in the East Wing of Somerset House have been developed to provide King’s with publicly accessible venues for performance and cultural practice. He has just passed the half way stage in a Leverhulme supported project Engineering Spectacle: Inigo Jones Past & Present Performance at Somerset House.