- Quiriny, Bernard – L’Angoisse de la première page – Éditions Phébus, 2005

I. COURSE PRESENTATION

All Paris Internship Program French language courses are in essence embedded in the Program as a whole and are designed to work towards the same goal of allowing students to perform at their best while in Paris. In the context of this program, living in Paris means:
- acquiring daily survival skills,
- interacting with the French,
- studying academic subjects in French,
- working in a French environment.

Our language courses focus, both at the oral and written communication levels, on creating tools:
- to communicate in everyday interactions, with a focus on colloquialisms and language used in varied situations,
- to discover and discuss cultural material and events (cinema, novels, etc.) and societal trends and issues (media),
- to adapt oral and written expression to an academic context, in relation to the elective course(s),
- to know how to present professionally, and manage work-related situations such as interviews or face-to-face, email and phone communication.
All our courses take into account the diversity of language levels amongst our students, and adjust to these needs. Given this diversity of profiles and the fact that language acquisitions are also enhanced by students living, working and attending elective courses in French to different extents for each individual, the language outcomes in the four communication skills – speaking, writing, listening, reading - range from Intermediate Mid to Advanced Low proficiency according to the ACTFL Proficiency Guidelines.

This course focuses on written expression and grammar and is conducted entirely in French.

II. COURSE OBJECTIVES, APPROACH, AND OUTCOMES

Objectives
Life in Paris, professional situations and elective course content will serve as our canvas to explore and apply concepts learned in the classroom. There are two primary objectives of this course:
- restructure skills in order to consolidate them;
- refine skills to improve language level and increase its flexibility in different contexts.

Approach
The approach will be equally theoretical and practical; formal and informal; written and oral:
- theoretical: systematic study of overarching grammatical themes so as to understand the logic of how the French language, and therefore the French spirit, expresses itself;
- practical: application of studied concepts to various contexts;
- formal: predetermined choice of grammatical themes;
- informal: consideration of individual students’ needs and interests;
- written: alternation between grammar exercises (daily homework, quizzes, exams), guided writing (compositions incorporating certain grammatical themes with an insistence on rigor and precision), and free expression (book report);
- oral: oral applications of grammar points in the form of exercises and other activities.

Outcomes
- Improve oral communication skills: by the end of this course, students will be able to participate in conversations about daily life, professional goals and experience, cultural and societal subjects; they will be able to ask and answer questions, narrate sequences of events, express their opinions and reactions.
- Improve written communication skills: by the end of this course, students will be able to write texts comprised of several paragraphs, such as narrative and argumentative essays as well as formal professional presentation.
- Focus on rigor and precision: by the end of this course, students will have an acute awareness of the importance of details when writing.
- View language structure as a system: by the end of this course, students will understand the logic behind the main grammar notions, be able to apply and recognize these notions when reading or writing; they also will have an awareness of language structure as a reflection of a way of thinking, and of how differences between French and English, as well as other languages, result in differences in mentalities and intellectual approaches.
- Adapt to various contexts: by the end of this course, students will be able to adjust their communication skills to different situations; they will make the difference between written and oral correctness; they will also be able to make the difference between familiar, informal, professional and academic communication.
- Enrich and diversify vocabulary according to needs: by the end of this course, students will have enriched their vocabulary through strategies involving identifying needs and distinguishing familiar, general and specialized vocabulary; they will have gained autonomy in vocabulary acquisition.

- Elaborate style: by the end of this course, students will be aware of and able to resort to different devices allowing them to improve their writing style, such as using logical connectors, avoiding repetitions by diversifying synonyms and limiting the use of basic verbs, building complex sentences in the limits of elegance.

III. ASSESSMENT AND GRADING

Exams (3): 39%
These three one-hour exams will cover grammar and vocabulary studied in class. Their format and relevant content will be given in advance.

Compositions (3): 39%
These compositions are an opportunity to work on the quality of written French (grammar, spelling, structure, style). The objective is to have the student self-correct increasingly as the weeks go on as well as to improve their written language level. Each composition will be a double assignment: students will turn in the assignment, and the instructor will underline errors and return to the students, who will then submit a corrected version. The first draft counts for 75% of the composition grade, while the final draft counts for 25%.

Compositions will be 1.5-2 pages each and will treat various themes: a professional presentation, a visit to a site in Ile-de-France, and an argument on a given topic relating to French society.

Book Report: 7%
After researching the suggested novels on the internet, students read an excerpt (roughly 30-40 pages) from a list of recent French novels and write a 3-4 page essay reacting to the text, as well as a section about linguistic aspects (new vocabulary, grammar notions). The grade will take into account grammatical correctness, expression, and level of reflection.

In-class exercises: 5%
Students will complete short quizzes and in-class exercises relating to points of grammar currently being studied to help keep students on track and identify problematic concepts as early as possible. During the first two weeks, there will be a quiz in each class session on irregular verb conjugations.

Participation, effort, and progress: 10%
This grade takes into account the quality of students’ presence in class, energy, relevance of comments in class, regularity, effort and progress on written work, and attendance and punctuality. A midterm evaluation of this grade will be given to students after the second exam.

Attendance Policy
1 absence (class session or activity) = -1 point on the overall grade
4 or more unexcused absences = grade of F for the course
Missed assignment or exam = grade of 0 for the assignment
Plagiarism on an assignment = grade of 0 for the assignment

NB: Excused absences must be justified by a doctor’s note or a scheduled internship interview.
Plagiarism (BU Policy)
All students are responsible for having read the Boston University statement on plagiarism, which is available in the Academic Conduct Code. Students are advised that the penalty against students on a Boston University program for cheating on the examinations or for plagiarism may be ‘expulsion from the program or the University or such other penalty as may be recommended by the Committee on Student Academic Conduct, subject to approval by the dean’. Read the full Academic Conduct Code online at http://www.bu.edu/academics/policies/academic-conduct-code/.

IV. COURSE OUTLINE
