1. Course Overview

1.1 Description from Course Catalog

MET AD655 C1 International Business, Economics and Cultures
This course focuses on the international context of business and management, and provides the understandings of international business dynamic environments, the cultural diversity of global management, formulating and implementing strategy for global operations, and creating competitive advantages for global competition. (4 credits).

1.2 Introduction
This course provides you an integrated introduction to international business, economics and cultures. By “integrated” is meant that you will learn all of the fundamental aspects of modern international business, economics and cultures, both theoretical and practical. Finally, in discussions you will learn about and how to apply the skills required of an international business manager.

1.3 Prerequisites
a) Courses:

2.3 Instructor:

JUNG WAN LEE, Ph.D.

Jung Wan Lee holds a Ph.D. in Business Administration (Marketing) and advanced degrees in International Logistics (MBA), International Finance (MA), and Electronic Commerce (MS) with solid applied backgrounds in international business and management. He has many years of research and teaching experience in electronic commerce, international marketing, international business and management in Korea, USA, and Kazakhstan. He also has substantial experience of international business in Korea, Japan, China, and Russia.

He teaches AD655 International Business, Economics and Cultures, MG520 International Business Management, MG448 Electronic Commerce and Web Design, MG473 Qualitative & Quantitative Decision Making in undergraduate and graduate programs at Metropolitan College. For further information, see: http://www.supermanlee.com.

Research

He has written over sixty research papers and four books during the past 10 years. He has four award-winning research papers: 1) Best Paper Award at the Twelfth International Conference of International Management Development Association, in June 2006, in Vancouver, Canada, 2) Distinguished Research Award at the Spring 2009 International Conference of Allied Academies, in April 2008, in Tunica, Mississippi, 3) Distinguished Research Award at the Spring 2009 International Conference of Allied Academies, in April 2009, in New Orleans, LA, 4) Distinguished Research Award at the Fall 2009 International Conference of Allied Academies, in October 2009, in Las Vegas, NV.

He serves as the Editor-in-Chief for the Journal of Administrative Sciences and Technology (ISSN 2165-9435) and Journal of Distribution Science (ISSN 1738-3110). He also serves as an Associate Editor of the African Journal of Marketing Management (ISSN: 2141-2421) and as a Consulting Editor of the World Journal of Entrepreneurship, Management and Sustainable Development (ISSN: 2042-5961).
2.4 Other Information

a) Getting Started, or What Should I Do First?

You are nervous and experiencing sensory overload. Welcome to the club. You are not alone—almost everyone is in the same boat. That takes quite a bit of getting used to.

The job of a graduate student is to move forward human knowledge.
I know this is intimidating, but my job is to challenge you. I want you to improve—there wouldn’t be much point in taking this course if you didn’t. Taking this course is not about learning international business management and economics—you could do that by reading a book. This course is about becoming a critical thinker, learning to evaluate what you read, getting some data, evaluating the source of the data, and developing your own conclusions.

If that sounds ambitious, it is. I am here to help you through that process. This is hard! Don’t expect to master it in the first week. It will be difficult and unfamiliar. I only know of one way to succeed at this: try, try, and try again.

Reading the literature should be your starting point. You have access to the library—use it. When facing an assignment, think it through and write down some key concepts and terms. Don’t just start writing. Using the topics and vocabulary you have written down, try to find and read some scholarly articles. Learn to cite and reference correctly. Finally, write your own paper with your own thoughts, weaving in the research you have done.

Ask yourself the following question: What have I written that is original? Then focus your paper on your work.

b) General Guidance

There are no dumb questions.
I really believe and practice this in the classroom. If you have a question, ask!

Challenge everything!
The internet has made data accessible to everyone. In fact, there is really way too much of it. The problem is that you don’t know how to evaluate it. Where does it come from? Who wrote it and why? What is their agenda?

I encourage you to challenge anything and everything. Don’t just read the textbook, read with a view to challenging what is being said. If you challenge something, be sure to be able to back up your claim with research and correct references.
c) Academic Research

What constitutes “academic research?” Academic articles have a proven provenance. (Look up “provenance.”) Articles are submitted to journals and evaluated anonymously by referees who are subject matter experts. The author typically revises a manuscript based on the referees’ questions and comments. Publication of the refereed article disseminates the information. Mistakes are corrected, excellent and useful work becomes accepted, and progress is made. Over time, a body of work emerges that is validated and accepted.

Academic journal articles are what you are aiming for in your research. It is tough going early on to read this stuff. Read the abstract. If it looks interesting and you understand it, read the article. After a while, you get better at skipping over the stuff that is not relevant to your assignment. In other words, for the purposes of this course, a “Google” search returns junk. (Actually, of course, a google search gets you going and we all do it. It is just not polite to mention it.)

3.2 Other Required Materials

a) Additional reading materials

b) Boston University Library Link
   As Boston University students you have full access to the BU libraries. You can gain access to anything at the libraries that is electronically formatted—or better said, available online. That includes vast holdings, among them subscriptions to periodicals, books, audio and video recordings, etc. Boston University’s Office of Information Technology and the Libraries offer an option for remote access to Boston University’s online library resources.

3.3 Blackboard/Course Info
   This course will use a Blackboard site. Students are required to have a BU ID and password to log in. If you do not have a BU ID yet, note that this takes some time so be sure to start this process well before class starts. The site is: [http://blackboard.bu.edu/]

4. Course Learning Objectives

4.1 Course Goals and Objectives
   This course provides you an integrated introduction to international business, economics and cultures. By “integrated” is meant that you will learn all of the fundamental aspects of modern international business, economics and cultures, both theoretical and practical. Finally, in discussions you will learn about and how to apply the skills required of an international business manager.

4.2 Course Learning Objectives
   After you have completed this course, you should be able to:
   • Understand the unique challenges involved in international business management.
   • Perform a comprehensive analysis of international business management environment and make operational recommendations for managerial action that will improve business performance.
- Analyze and apply the various components of international business management to enhance its effectiveness.
- Understand and discuss key issues required in international business management.

4.3 Course Expectations and Delivery Mode

The course will be conducted by means of a sequence of lectures and some classroom discussions. There will be one lecture each week. In each week will cover one or more core international business, economics and cultures concepts.

Each week students will be assigned a research topic, which will be the focus of an in class discussion. Every student will be expected to contribute every week. There is a major Final Project. Students will be required to demonstrate their understanding of the key features of the course, as well as the practical application of skills.

Discussion Questions

1. "Foreign Direct Investments"
Traditionally Foreign Direct Investments (FDI) has followed foreign trade since foreign trade is typically less costly and risky than making a direct investment into foreign markets. Entering a market via FDI allows management to enter the market in small increments controlling their investment. Globalization of markets is challenging this traditional market entry strategy.

Discuss how the new international business environment is causing this path to market expansion to change. Illustrate and reinforce your answer with any theory (from international trade and investment theory) referred to and with practical examples.

2. "Cultural Considerations in International Business"
As a prospective executive with BUMET International Inc., you were recently promoted to Asia Pacific Rim Director for the region that includes Japan, Korea, China, Singapore, Thailand, Vietnam, Indonesia, and Malaysia. This region encompasses the most important production facilities for BUMET International Inc. with seven production facilities and over 24,000 employees.

How should you alter your management style based on Hofstede's four value dimensions? Illustrate and reinforce your answer with any value dimensions referred to and with practical examples.

While there is no fixed absolute number of grades in any one level, it is important to note that high grades reflect an excellence in the understanding of class materials and organization of thoughts as well as the complete works of course assignments. In addition, an important aspect of my class is the complete attendance at each class and active participation at each discussion; grades will also reflect an individual's contributions to the class.

As such, a maximum 5 percent of the class, ONLY who has/have achieved completely every learning goal of the course, would earn an A grade and approximately 15 percent would earn an A- grade. As grades are earned and not awarded, the College does give grades C+/C/C-/D+/D or F for work that is below average/standards.

Grading, attendance and examination policies and procedures will be applied to the course in accordance with Boston University rules of “Code of Academic Conduct.”

4.7 Homework, Exams and Discussions

a) Quiz: (individual, 10% of total grade)

A quiz will be conducted on the class day of week 4 (February 6, 2013).

Quiz will cover conceptual material from chapters; questions relating to lecture / discussion material from class; and readings. No make-up exam will be given.
b) Assignment 1: Article review and essay writing (individual, 10% of total grade)

AACSB Department Learning Goal: Globalization

C4: Performing an analysis of globalization: Substantial

Guidelines for essay writing

1. The student should select an essay topic they are interested in from the following list, or they may explore/develop any topic they are interested in. Students should get approval from the instructor if they choose a topic outside of the list:

| 1. Agency Theory | 13. Organizational Ecology |
| 2. Comparative Advantage | 14. Organizational Learning |
| 3. Competitive Structure | 15. Portfolio Theory |
| 4. Exploration vs. Exploitation | 16. Relational Contracting Theory |
| 5. Game Theory | 17. Resource-Based Theory |
| 9. Internationalization Theories | 21. Technological Advantage Theory |
| 11. Leadership Theories | 23. Transaction Cost Theory |

2. Each essay will be 8 pages in length, including a title page and references. It should be typed in 12-point font, Times New Roman, and double-spaced.

3. Avoid verbosity and do not plagiarize the work of others. You must cite your sources. Provide adequate citations and use the APA style (see APA style guide here) for the bibliography.

4. The essay MUST have FIVE peer-reviewed research articles for citations in text and references (published after 2002 + research articles + peer-reviewed ONLY). You can find a good source from the BU Library's electronic resources. Use the link http://www.bu.edu/library/index.shtml.

5. Students should analyze and synthesize the information from the articles to form a cohesive essay (i.e. 1500 ~ 2000 words). The paper should be short and concise.

6. Submission: 1) Two sets of printed copies of an essay should be submitted, and 2) a written essay as an MS Word document by an email attachment should be sent not later than the class day of week 7 (February 27, 2013).
Grading Criteria (in total 10 points)

1. Timeliness: Submitted by the due date – maximum 2 points
2. Content and context: Well organized according to the guidelines: maximum 4 points
3. Citation and reference – Appropriately cited in the body text and bibliography, according to the citation guidelines: maximum 4 points

c) Assignment 2: Case analysis report (individual, 10% of total grade)

Guidelines for a case writing:

1. Students should select a case topic they are interested in from a list of the 2012 Fortune Global 500 (http://money.cnn.com/magazines/fortune/global500/2012/), or they may explore/develop any case topic they are interested in. Students should get approval from the instructor if they choose a case topic outside of the list.
2. Each case report will be 15 pages in length, including a title page, tables, figures, appendixes, and references. It should be typed in 12 point font, Times New Roman, and double-spaced.
3. Avoid verbosity and do not plagiarize work of others. You must cite your sources. Provide adequate citations and use the APA style (see APA style guide here) for bibliography.
4. You may use any article from websites, newspapers, company reports, and other forms of information.
5. Students should analyze and synthesize the information from the reading materials to form a cohesive report (i.e. 3000~4000 words). The report should be concise.
6. Do not simply summarize materials of a company. Use the information from the materials to support your evaluations, conclusions, and recommendations.
7. Submission: 1) Two sets of printed copies of a case analysis should be submitted, and 2) a written case report as an MS Word document by an email attachment should be sent not later than the class day of week 10 (March 20, 2013).

Case Analysis Grading Criteria (10 points)

1. Timeliness: Whether it is completed on time: Maximum 3 points
2. Content and context: Whether its content has flourished by extended research, relating to a case: maximum 3 points
3. Analytical Skills: Whether the work focus on key points to managerial and marketing issues: Maximum 4 points
d) Assignment 3: Term-Paper writing and Presentation (Team project, 30% of total grade)

AACSB Department Learning Goal: Globalization
- C1: Concept of globalization: Substantial
- C2: Perspectives on globalization: Substantial
- C3: Developing an overview of globalization issues: Substantial
- C4: Performing an analysis of globalization: Substantial

Instructions for a term paper: A term paper on international business, economics and cultures will be written by a group of students (a team consists of normally three (3) students). Students may volunteer themselves to form/choose their team members. As the semester progresses, various components of the paper should be worked. At the end of the semester, all sections will be integrated into one final paper.

1. Students should select a term paper topic they are interested in from the following list, or students may explore/develop any topic they are interested in. Students should get approval from the instructor if they choose a topic outside of the list:

<thead>
<tr>
<th></th>
<th></th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>3. Legal and Political Forces</td>
<td>13. International Strategic Alliances</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5. Ethics and Social Responsibility in International Business</td>
<td>15. Leadership and Employee Behavior in International Business</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10. International Cooperation among Nations</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

2. Each term paper will be about 25 pages in length, including a title page and references. It should be typed in 12 point font, Times New Roman, and double-spaced.
3. Avoid verbosity and do not plagiarize work of others. You must cite your sources. Provide adequate citations and use the APA style (see APA style guide here) for bibliography.
4. You may use any article from websites, newspapers, company reports, and other forms of information.
5. Students should analyze and synthesize the information from the reading materials to form a cohesive paper (i.e. 5000 ~ 7000 words). The paper should be concise.
6. Do not simply summarize materials of companies and/or cases. The written paper should focus on analyzing the material, evaluating the strategy employed by companies, and making appropriate recommendations. Use the information from the materials to support your conclusions and recommendations.
7. The written paper should focus on analyzing the materials in cases, evaluating the strategy employed by companies/products/brands, and making appropriate recommendations.

8. Submission: 1) Two sets of printed copies of a term paper should be submitted, and 2) a written term paper as an MS Word document by an email attachment should be sent not later than the class day of week 14 (April 17, 2013).

Grading Criteria (maximum 30 points)

The project will count for 30% (written report 20 points, presentation 10 points) of the total grade. Each member of a project team will receive the same grade for their project submission.

1. Timeliness: Whether it is completed on time - Maximum 4 points
2. Content and context (conceptual skills): Whether its content has flourished by extended research, relating to the case - maximum 8 points
3. Analytical Skills: Whether the work focus on key points to marketing decision-making issues - Maximum 8 points
4. Presentation: Maximum 10 points*

*Guidelines for presentation:

Presentation of team project will take place on the class day of week 15 (April 24, 2013).

Groups should prepare a 10 to 12 slide PowerPoint presentation for abstracting their term papers. The presentation of PowerPoint slides should be developed and organized in a professional manner like a seminar (“Your use of hyperlinks, layouts, and contents are the elements of your own creativity. Audio narration can definitely add to your presentation, but is not required. If you choose to narrate your presentation, please limit the audio length to no more than 10 minutes (i.e. 1 minute per slide).”

e) Final Exam: (Individual, 30% of total grade)

The final exam will be administered according to the University exam schedule.

There is a final exam in this course during a final exam period. The final exam is proctored and requires the use of an approved proctor for a student who is unable to get to the test site. The exam will cover information from textbook, lectures, cases, and readings. The exam is closed book/closed notes/closed materials. The final exam will be structured to promote and reward learning, thinking, and understanding of the course materials. This will require some memorization, as well as the ability to understand concepts of international business, economics and cultures. The test will contain four types of questioning methods: true/false, multiple choice, fill-in-the-blank, and open-end questions. The duration of the exam is 100 minutes for 45 questions.
Attention!

- 20% of absence without valid reasons leads to «F (Fail)»
- “0” will be marked, if students are late on the final examination;
- “F” will be marked, if students use a crib (on a paper or electronic base) during the final examination.

5. Requirements, Policies and Standards

5.1 Attendance

Attendance at all classes is mandatory. Attendance will be taken early on in the class. In accordance with the department policy, any student missing more than 2 classes will be considered to have withdrawn. Students arriving late will be considered to have missed the class.

5.2 Homework

Homework will be assigned each week. Assignments will be graded. Proper attribution is required for sources.

5.2.1 Timely Presentation of Materials Due

All assignments (papers, homework, etc.) have due dates. These are the LAST DATES that stated material is due. I maintain the right to refuse, or downgrade, any materials presented after due dates. This is not a subject for discussion.

Student should organize their time and work so as to turn in the assignment before the due date. To be absolutely clear, this means that the work will be accepted anytime up to that date but not after. Students should develop a schedule so that the work is built around their personal needs and obligations. Students should allow for contingencies and plan to hand in their work well before the last minute. That way, should some unforeseen problem arise, the timely presentation of work is not in jeopardy.

5.2.2 Discussion Expectations

Please remember that online discussion topics are an ongoing process. You should not consider yourself having participated in the discussions by merely posting one comment. You should be reading all of the postings and responding appropriately, much like a face-to-face discussion. While assignments are due on specific dates, you should plan to contribute to discussions early and continue to monitor them.

Each student should be prepared to discuss the assigned topic in class.
5.2.3 Student Preparation

Minimal preparation is reading the material, and being able to summarize what it is about, what the major issues are, and some recommendations.

Superior preparation involves being able to (i) summarize the situation or problem presented by the case; (ii) recommend a solution to the discussed problem; (iii) support your recommendation with data, relevant details, and analyses; and (iv) discuss innovative solutions, or why obvious solutions might be discounted.

5.2.4 Paper Requirements

You are to complete any research papers using the APA writing style and in particular, for citations and references. You can download the student style guide from the American Psychological Association web site or you can purchase the APA style guide from the book store.

Several guides are provided in the CourseInfo site under the Course Documents. As most referencing information is available either on the APA web site or on the CourseInfo site, the purchase of the guide is not essential. However, in all of your papers and assignments you need to understand how to lay out a paper, as well as how to cite and reference correctly This is essential.

Papers are to be RESEARCH PAPERS. Remember that work that you use from other authors MUST be referenced. Since it is assumed that you know little about the topic that you are writing on, it is expected that your papers contain information from many different sources. These must be attributed to the author using the American Psychological Association citation and reference format. This is your paper and not the cut and paste if someone else's work.

The internet has led to a false sense of what research is all about. Those new to research tend to think that it means spending an afternoon surfing the internet and then cutting and pasting from material available. Keep in mind the internet is:

1. Not quality oriented.
2. The internet has both good stuff and bad stuff, but does not know the difference.
3. I expect to see materials from a wide variety of sources, and academic sources.

5.3 Grading Policy

Grade inflation is not in the best interests of BU students or the reputation of the institution. I have a responsibility to differentiate the performance of my students, and to reward with high grades only those who do exceptionally well. A Grade of ‘A’ or ‘A minus’ will be limited only to those students truly distinguishing themselves in the course.

The Academic Policy Committee of Metropolitan College recommends the following guidelines for distinguishing grades.

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Grade</th>
<th>Percentage</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>A, A-</td>
<td>20%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>B+, B, B-</td>
<td>80%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Other</td>
<td>As merited</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
Excellent, research quality work will be rewarded with an ‘A’. An ‘A’ grade requires research quality excellence in all aspects of the course: homework, discussions, project, and exams. Grades do not follow a prescribed curve.

This is a Boston University course; that means something. One thing it means is that we recognize and reward excellence. Excellence is uncommon, even rare. Your grade, then, will reflect the standards of excellence set by Boston University, in which only truly distinguished work will receive the highest grade.

5.3.1 Requests For Extensions

The General position is that make up extensions are not given. There is no guarantee that a make up will be permitted, and any request needs to be in writing and a written verification of the incident will be expected. Sometimes, unfortunate situations occur that make fulfilling requirements impossible and, as such, requests for extensions will be evaluated on a case-by-case basis.

This is not to penalize any individual student but to attempt to assure that there is a level playing field and the total class feels confident that no one has a unique advantage.

If, for any reason, you are unable to meet any assignment deadline, a student should contact the instructor immediately, and preferably in advance. All assignments must be completed.

6. Academic Conduct Policy

The academic conduct policy is summarized below. For the full text of the academic conduct code, please go to:

http://www.bu.edu/met/metropolitan_college_people/student/resources/conduct/code.html

Any Plagiarism will be reported to the Dean and dealt with according to the Academic Conduct Code of Metropolitan College.

Boston University makes available to all faculty the plagiarism tool “Turn It In.com.” The site contains millions of papers from around the world. When a paper is submitted to TurnItIn.com, it is analyzed and compared to other work. TurnItIn.com reports if any parts of the paper are copied from other sources without proper attribution. Specifically, TurnItIn.com will detect plagiarism.
6.1 A Definition of Plagiarism

“The academic counterpart of the bank embezzler and of the manufacturer who mislabels products is the plagiarist: the student or scholar who leads readers to believe that what they are reading is the original work of the writer when it is not. If it could be assumed that the distinction between plagiarism and honest use of sources is perfectly clear in everyone’s mind, there would be no need for the explanation that follows; merely the warning with which this definition concludes would be enough. But it is apparent that sometimes people of goodwill draw the suspicion of guilt upon themselves (and, indeed, are guilty) simply because they are not aware of the illegitimacy of certain kinds of "borrowing" and of the procedures for correct identification of materials other than those gained through independent research and reflection."

"The spectrum is a wide one. At one end there is a word-for-word copying of another's writing without enclosing the copied passage in quotation marks and identifying it in a footnote, both of which are necessary. (This includes, of course, the copying of all or any part of another student’s paper.) It hardly seems possible that anyone of college age or more could do that without clear intent to deceive. At the other end there is the almost casual slipping in of a particularly apt term which one has come across in reading and which so aptly expresses one’s opinion that one is tempted to make it personal property.”

“Between these poles there are degrees and degrees, but they may be roughly placed in two groups. Close to outright and blatant deceit—but more the result, perhaps, of laziness than of bad intent—is the patching together of random jottings made in the course of reading, generally without careful identification of their source, and then woven into the text, so that the result is a mosaic of other people's ideas and words, the writer's sole contribution being the cement to hold the pieces together. Indicative of more effort and, for that reason, somewhat closer to honest, though still dishonest, is the paraphrase, and abbreviated (and often skillfully prepared) restatement of someone else's analysis or conclusion, without acknowledgment that another person's text has been the basis for the recapitulation."

6.2 Academic Conduct Code

I. Philosophy of Discipline

The objective of Metropolitan College in enforcing academic rules is to promote the kind of community atmosphere in which learning can best take place. This atmosphere can be maintained only so long as every student believes that his or her academic competence is being judged fairly and that he or she will not be put at a disadvantage because of the dishonesty of someone else. Penalties imposed should be carefully determined so as to be no more or no less than required to maintain the desired atmosphere. In defining violation of this code the intent is to protect the integrity of the educational process.

II. Academic Misconduct

Academic misconduct is conduct by which a student misrepresents his or her academic accomplishments or impedes other students' chances of being judged fairly for their academic work. Knowingly allowing others to represent your work as theirs is as serious an offense as submitting another's work as your own.

III. Violations of this Code

Violations of this code are acts that constitute an attempt to be dishonest or deceptive in the performance of academic work in or out of the classroom. To alter academic records, or to collaborate with another student or students in an act of academic misconduct. Violations include but are not limited to:

A. Cheating on examinations. Any attempt by a student to alter his or her performance on an examination in violation of that examination's stated or commonly understood ground rules.
B. Plagiarism. Any attempt by a student to represent the work of another as his or her own. Plagiarism includes each of the following: copying the answers of another student on an examination, copying or substantially restating the work of another person or persons in any oral or written work without citing the appropriate source, and collaboration with someone else in an academic endeavor without acknowledging his or her contribution (see below for a more detailed definition of plagiarism).
C. Misrepresentation or falsification of data presented for surveys, experiments, etc.
D. Theft of an examination. Stealing or otherwise discovering and/or making known to others the contents of an examination that has not yet been administered.
E. Unauthorized conversation is not allowed during examinations. Any unauthorized conversation may be considered prima facie evidence of cheating.
F. Knowingly allowing another student to represent your work as his or her own.
G. Forgery, alteration, or knowing misuse of graded examinations, grade lists, or official University records or documents, including but not limited to transcripts, letters of recommendation, degree certificates, alteration of examinations or other work after submission.
H. Theft or destruction of examinations or papers after submission including purposefully altering possible poor performance.
I. Submitting the same work in more than one course without the consent of the instructors involved.
J. Altering or destroying another student's work or records, altering records of any kind, removing materials from libraries or offices without consent, or in any way interfering with the work of others so as to impede their academic performance.
K. Failure to comply with the sanctions imposed under the authority of this code.
AACSB Information

Compliance with Department Academic Goals

Department Goals

The Department of Administrative Sciences maintains data to support accreditation under the rules of the AACSB. All courses must document that they include some of the academic goals which are described in the Department of Administrative Sciences Mission Statement. These goals are summarized below:

a) General Goals

- We recognize that both technology and globalization are driving forces in modern commerce. As a result, we seek out ways to include international perspectives throughout the curriculum.
- Graduate education requires a focused area of study, continuous updating of skills and abilities, and an appreciation of the complexity of today’s global environment. These beliefs are reflected in the student body, degree curriculum, individual course content as well as in cross departmental study.

b) Teaching

- We recognize that providing the working adult with academically challenging, high quality and practically focused instruction requires a blend of theory and application.
- We recognize the value of learning that occurs in the workplace, and design our classes to meet needs of our students, and educate them in the concepts and technical skills required to perform in contemporary and future work settings.

c) Course Content

- Our courses combine the traditional values of liberal arts, are interdisciplinary and focus on strengths in specialized professional subject areas.
- We incorporate international perspectives and cases into our courses.
