The Aphasia Resource Center at Boston University (BU ARC) has as among its primary purposes, the training of students who wish to become speech-language pathologists and audiologists. The BU ARC respects the right of privacy of its clients and will treat all sessions and information regarding its clients as confidential in accordance with applicable law. Each client who is seen at the BU ARC is asked to give consent to the observation and audio and/or video recording of sessions involving the client and to the use of these audio and/or video recordings and other information regarding the client for purposes related to the treatment of the client, operations, and education, including use by students in classroom presentations.

Please be advised that students, faculty and staff at the BU ARC sometime consult with physicians, other professionals, and individuals at agencies, schools, clinics, and other entities for purposes related to the client’s treatment. In order to enable the Center and other parties involved with the client’s care to consider relevant information, we will share information that we deem appropriate.

I understand that by signing this form, I give my permission for individuals associated with Boston University to:

1. Observe and record sessions either through audio and/or video involving the client.

2. Use of such audio and/or video recordings and other information regarding the client for purposes related to treatment or operations.

3. Use of such audio and/or video recordings and other information regarding the client for purposes related to education, including use in classroom presentations;

4. Share information regarding the client with physicians, other professionals, and individuals at agencies, schools, clinics, and other entities as the Center deems appropriate for purposes of treatment of the client.
