

CELOP Technology Workshop

Teacher wikis and other web publishing options

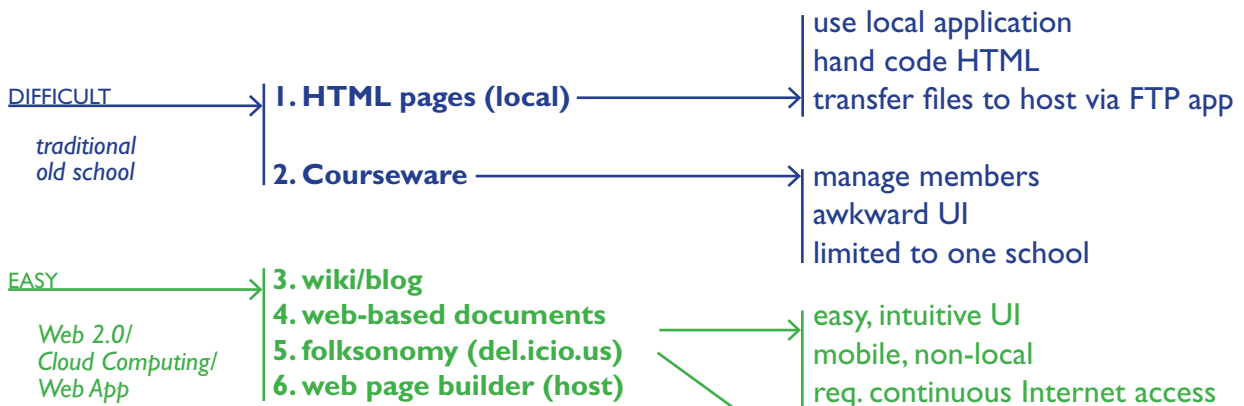

Pre-Activity: Watch the video primer: "Embedding video in your CELOP wiki." Go to the MLL Student Links Page > Tutorials > Curricular Activities.

Many of you want your students to access a particular web site or resource without hunting for it. We'll look at a few very simple options for publishing your own links, including the new CELOP Teacher Wikis (everyone has one set up), Google Docs, and del.icio.us. These are relatively simple tools that anyone can use to maintain links (and more) for class.

The purpose of this workshop is to put you in charge of your web-based communications with your students rather than relying on an intermediary (i.e., someone maintaining a web page of links for you).

Options for publishing links and content for your students

Getting students to your pages

