Communication Minor

Minor in this form is available to students entering Boston University prior to Fall 2018.

Pre-requisite:
Students must complete COM CO 201 with the appropriate grade (C or better) BEFORE declaring a minor. The student must have the Mass Communication, Advertising and Public Relations department sign off on the COM Minor Form after the pre-requisite course is completed.

Students will have to maintain a GPA of 2.0 in all courses taken toward the COM minor.

Communication encompasses three focus areas:

COMMUNICATION STUDIES
ADVERTISING
PUBLIC RELATIONS

Six required courses (not including COM CO 201) in total:

CM 331 Writing for Communication

Four (4), 4-credit 200-level or higher courses in COM CM

Students will have to be aware of any pre-requisites when registering for classes.

Please note: Courses taken outside of Boston University cannot count toward a COM minor.

As of the fall 2018 semester the Department of Mass Communication, Advertising and Public Relations will no longer be offering COM CM 380. COM CM 180, Understanding Media, replaces COM CM 380 for the minor. Students who have already taken COM CM 380 will not need to take COM CM 180. Students cannot retake a course they have already received credit for under the new course number/title.
