Psychiatric Rehabilitation Journal Special Issue

The Spring 2011 Psychiatric Rehabilitation Journal is a Special Issue Promoting Integrated Healthcare for People Living with Psychiatric Disabilities. Guest Editors, Kristin E. Davis, Sandra M. Wilkniss and Kenneth S. Thompson provided guidance and expertise to develop selected articles and brief reports on research, program planning, and program implementation aimed at increasing access to high quality integrated care for persons with psychiatric disabilities. View the complete list of articles available in this issue at <http://www.bu.edu/cpr/prj>

What's new on the DRRK?

We are in the process of devising a new look and will make it easier to find what you are searching for. Go to <http://drk.bu.edu/> updated articles.

Have you ever sat with a person you are serving and wondered how to incorporate Evidence Based Practices into your relationship?

Enhance Evidence Based Practices using Evidence Based Process components of psychiatric rehabilitation, including:

- How to develop and maintain a true partnership with those being served
- How to facilitate an individual's setting self-determined and informed goals
- How to facilitate the development of positive expectancies and hope for change
- How to facilitate people gaining insights about their own behavior
- How to teach and support application of new skills
- How to facilitate an individual's linkage to and successful use of resources

For more information about how to learn these components contact:
