Course Description

MET CS 684

IT Security Policies and Procedures

This course enables IT professionals to implement security policies to support organizational goals. We discuss methodologies for identifying, quantifying, mitigating, and controlling security risks. Students learn to write IT risk management plans, standards, and procedures that identify alternate sites for processing mission-critical applications, and techniques to recover infrastructure, systems, networks, data, and user access.

The course also discusses disaster recovery; handling information security; protection of property, personnel and facilities; protection of sensitive and classified information; privacy issues; and hostile activities.

Course Learning Objectives

Upon successful completion of this course you will understand:

- The common Information Systems Security models
  - Security characteristics, threats and responses
  - Security measures from Technology, Policy and Practice, and Education, Training, and Awareness dimensions
  - Risk management—identification, quantification, response, and control
  - Disaster recovery procedures and countermeasures for the business enterprise

Course Outline

- Calendar Tool - You can see many due dates in the Vista calendar tool . You may add your own events there as well. However, please be aware that you may not find all of the important dates for the course listed there. You will stay current by checking announcements, discussions, and emails in the course.
- Readings - Each module has both textbook readings and online lectures . Your professor may suggest additional readings during the running of the course.
- Discussion - There are threaded discussions  for each module. These discussions are moderated by your instructor. Postings for each discussion should be completed by the assigned due dates. There are also general discussions boards, which are not graded, for you to use to discuss any issues with your classmates. Please see the Discussion Module on the home page for more details.
- Assignment - There are assignments that are due throughout the course.
