

Boston University Women's Studies Program Events

Theater Event

'Let Me Down Easy' Anna Deavere Smith

Tues, September 23

7p – 9p

Women's Studies Students and Faculty

Women's Studies Brunch

Professor Belle

Introducing Deborah Belle, Acting Director

&

Honoring Professor Brenda McSweeney

Welcome Women's Studies Minors, WS
Faculty, Advisory Board and BU Faculty

Professor McSweeney

Sun, October 5th

12n – 2p

By Invitation Only

Grand Opening of the Women's Center at Boston University

The Grand Opening of the Women's Center
Celebrating BU Women!

Sun, October 5th

12n – 2p

Open to the BU Community

George Sherman Union

775 Commonwealth Ave, LL

Open House – Major Choices Week

Women's Studies Minors and Faculty discuss the Women's Studies Program

For your future—and the world's Women's and Gender Studies today!

Tues, October 22

1p-2p

Open to the BU Community

Women's Studies Seminar Room

704 Comm. Ave 102

Boston University Women's Studies Program Events

Election Panel Discussion

In Our Dreams Overcoming Race and Gender Bias In U.S. Politics

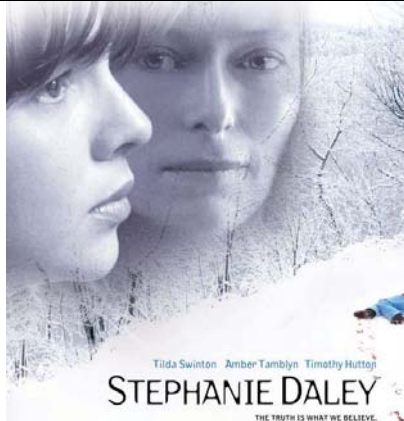

What would a U.S. presidential election look like if candidates were judged on the content of their characters and the wisdom of their policies rather than on gender and racial stereotypes? How far are we now from that goal, and what will it take to get there?

Tues, October 28
Women's Resource Ctr

4pm-6pm
775 Comm. Ave, LL

Open to the BU Community

Stephanie Daley, Film Showing

"A gripping and ultimately devastating story,"
-New York Times

"Taut, provocative, knockout lead performances."
-Variety

Mon, Nov 17
CAS 211

3pm-5pm
725 Comm. Ave

Open to the BU Community

Hilary Brougher, Director

Best Director,
Milan Film Festival

Director Hilary Brougher discusses her film, Stephanie Daley, and more.

Wed, November 19
Photonics, 206

4pm-6pm
8 St. Mary's St.

Open to the BU Community

Boston University Women's Studies Program Events

Faculty Network on Women's Studies, Gender, and Sexuality

Meet & Greet

Boston University faculty with scholarly interests in women's studies, gender, and/or sexuality attended a Meet and Greet event. Exciting future events are being discussed based on shared interests.

Tues, Dec 2
Hillel House

Open to Women's Studies and BU Faculty ONLY

Theater Event

Lizzie Stranton

a re-imagining of Aristophanes' Lysistrata.

In this bawdy Greek comedy, a clever heroine convinces her compatriots to inspire an end to the Peloponnesian War by withholding sex and money from their men. A production of the BU New Play Initiative.

Thurs, Dec 11

Open to Women's Studies
Minors and Faculty ONLY

Activism Panel Discussion

Onward! Activism Now

The recent presidential election mobilized new as well as seasoned activists and elicited tremendous energy, intelligence, and creativity. How can we deploy such resources now to tackle the many problems that still face our communities and our country?

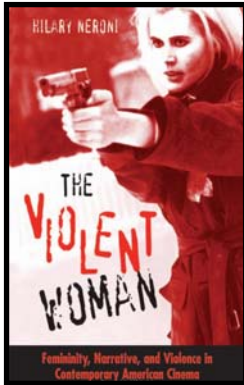

Tues, Jan 27, 2009
Howard Thurman Center

4pm-6pm
GSU

Open to the Public
775 Comm. Ave, LL

Boston University Women's Studies Program Events

Film viewing and Lecture

“Terror, Torture, and Feminine Masquerade: The Case of Alias vs. 24”

Hilary Neroni

Associate Professor and Program Director,
Film and Television Studies, University of Vermont
* Funded by the Humanities Foundation

Wed, March 4
GCB

2p – 4p

Open to the Public
750 Commonwealth Ave.

Lecture

Maria Mitchell, Astronomer, and the Sexing of Science

Renee Bergland Professor of English and Gender/Cultural Studies Simmons College
Co Sponsored by BU WISE

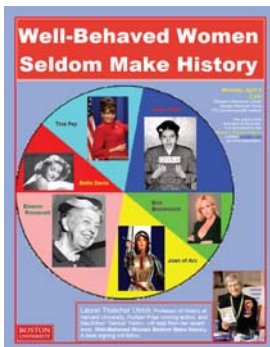

Tues, March 17^h
Hillel House

3p-5p

Open to the Public
213 Bay State Road

Book Reading and Signing

Well-Behaved Women Seldom Make History

Laurel Thatcher Ulrich, Professor of History at Harvard University, Pulitzer Prize winning author, and MacArthur “Genius” Fellow.

Mon, April 6
George Sherman Union

3pm

Open to the BU Community
775 Commonwealth Ave, LL

Boston University
Women's Studies Program Events

Sarah Joanne Davis Prize

College of Arts and Sciences Dean Sapiro presented Carrie Chiusano and Mackie Welch the Sarah Joanne Davis Prize.

Mon, April 6

4:15pm

Open to the BU Community

George Sherman Union

775 Commonwealth Ave, LL

2009 – 10 FINAL EVENTS

Women's Studies Brunch

Women's Studies End of the Semester Brunch

End of the Year Celebration!

We have had a fabulous year.

Let's reminisce and plan for the future.

Sun, April 26

12n – 2p

By Invitation Only

Graduate Student Meet and Greet

Members of the Boston University Faculty Network on Women's Studies, Gender, and Sexuality, are initiating a new Graduate Student Network on Women's Studies, Gender, and Sexuality for many of the same reasons we earlier initiated the Faculty Network: to improve communication and collaborations among those who share these research interests.

Mon, April 27

4p – 5:45p

By Invitation Only