Preface

Chapter 1: Introduction and Overview

Helping People Help Themselves

The Fundamental Helping-Self-Help Conundrum

The Key Factor in Development Assistance: Autonomy-Respecting Help

Unhelpful Help

The First Don't: Don't Override Self-Help Capacity with Social Engineering

The First Form of Unhelpful Help

The Indirect Approach

The Second Don't: Don't Undercut Self-Help Capacity with Benevolent Aid

The Second Form of Unhelpful Help

The Time-Inconsistency Problem of "Gap-Filling Aid"

Relief Assistance as Generalized Moral Hazard

The Scylla and Charybdis of Development Assistance

Knowledge-Based Development Assistance

The Cognitive Dimension of Development Assistance

The Two Don'ts in Knowledge-Based Assistance

Socratic Approach to Doers' Active Learning

The Three Dos

The First Do: Start from Where the Doers Are

The Second Do: See the World Through the Doers' Eyes

The Third Do: Respect the Autonomy of the Doers

Eight Thinkers Triangulate a Theory of Autonomy-Respecting Help

Chapter 2: Internal and External Motivation: Beyond Homo Economicus

Towards a Critique of Agency Theory

Non-Distortionary Interventions

Non-Distortionary Taxes and Subsidies

The Common Pool Approach to Aid

Independence Today: "Supply Effect" Tomorrow

Independence and Moral Hazard

Commitment Mechanisms to Show Own-Motivation

Gaming the Safeguards

Internal and External Motivation

*Moving Beyond *Homo Economicus

Foreground and Background

"Higher and Lower Selves"

Action = Behavior + Motive

By-Products Rather than Products of Choice

The Threat-to-Autonomy Effect
