Physics Help at Boston University

Listed below are a variety of resources available to you as a student at BU. Answer the following questions to discover which resources might be the best fit for you.

If you would like to discuss ways to improve your study skills, time management skills, or would just like to talk one-on-one with someone, please make an appointment with one of the professional staff at the ERC.

1. Have you visited your Professor/TA/TF?

- Professors, TA's and TF's are your best resource for your course
- See your syllabus for Professor and TF/TA office hours and contact information
- If you cannot make it to their office hours because of a schedule conflict, try contacting them directly to arrange a different time to meet

2. Have you heard of the Physics Resource Room?

- The Physics Undergraduate Resource Room is located in SCI 121 at 590 Commonwealth Ave
- Many professors and graduate students hold open office hours here

3. Are you interested in working with classmates?

- Get together with other students in your class to arrange a study group
- Study groups are a great way for students to pool their knowledge, review class topics and points of confusion collectively

4. Are you willing to pay for a tutor?

- Check the Physics website for information about obtaining a private tutor
- Please note that these tutors are not affiliated with the ERC
