

QUO VADIS, EUROPE?

09.29.16 | 7 PM
GOETHE-INSTITUTE BOSTON, 170 BEACON STREET, BOSTON

A LECTURE BY: JOAQUIM FRITZ-VANNAHME
RESPONDENT: VIVIEN A. SCHMIDT

Joaquim Fritz-Vannahme is one of the most sought-after experts on Europe. A foreign correspondent by trade, he was previously Deputy Editor-In-Chief and European Editor in Brussels for the weekly newspaper Die Zeit, where he worked for more than fifteen years, as well as on the ground in Paris, Brussels and Bonn. Fritz-Vannahme has been director of the Europe's Future program at the Bertelsmann Stiftung since 2007.

Moderated by Vivien Schmidt, Professor of International Relations and Political Science at Boston University and Founding Director of BU's Center for the Study of Europe.

This event takes place as part of a new initiative entitled "Interferences," a series of events on issues pertinent to democratic politics in the US and Europe. Organized as part of EU Futures, a series of conversations exploring the emerging future in Europe. The EU Futures project is supported by a Getting to Know Europe Grant from the European Commission Delegation in Washington, DC
