Join us for a reading and conversation with Elias Khoury. Khoury will read from his latest novel, Broken Mirrors: Sinalcol (Archipelago Books, January, 2016). The novel follows Karim, a Lebanese doctor who has escaped the civil war by emigrating to France, as he returns to Beirut like a “criminal returns to the scene of his crime.”

The conversation will be moderated by Jocelyne Cesari, Professor of Religion and Politics at the University of Birmingham, UK, and Senior research fellow at Georgetown University’s Berkley Center on Religion, Peace and World Affairs. It will focus on the ongoing revolutionary process in the Middle East and its impact on Europe’s future.

Supported in part by a Getting to Know Europe grant from the European Commission Delegation in Washington, DC.
