In addition to working locally and nationally, the department is also home to the Global Health Collaborative. At the Collaborative, we believe in a primary care provider for every person. The mission of the Collaborative is to raise the level of health care for underserved populations world-wide and improve health equity by enhancing primary care through comprehensive systems strengthening efforts involving:

- medical education programs and faculty development,
- improving health systems management,
- increasing access to high quality clinical services,
- promoting policy development, and
- supporting research and evaluation.

We have worked in a variety of countries, with current long-term Family Medicine development projects in Lesotho and Vietnam with more recent additional programs in Cambodia, Laos and Myanmar. If interested in learning more, please contact Maja Carrion at maja@bu.edu.
