How Financial Aid Awards are Determined

What is included in my award?

Eligibility for Boston University need-based financial aid is based on information reported on your CSS Profile. Eligibility for federal student aid is based on information reported on your FAFSA.

Your award includes your eligibility for both BU need-based scholarship as well as Federal and State financial aid. These amounts were calculated based on the 2025/2026 Cost of Attendance with the information submitted on your CSS Profile and FAFSA. Not all sections of this guide may apply to your specific award, please see the relevant sections for your specific award.

How is my award determined?

Your total need-based financial aid cannot exceed your demonstrated financial need and may include grant, scholarship, loan, and student employment. Beyond the base level of student loan listed on your initial notification, you can borrow an additional $2,000 unsubsidized federal student loan. Visit our website for more information on Federal Direct Loan terms.

When calculating your financial aid award, we subtract your family contribution from BU's cost of attendance. For the 2025/2026 academic year, total expenses for a student in university housing are $94,427 and are detailed on our website. Aid from all sources, including loans, cannot exceed the total cost of attendance, which included billed and non-billed expenses.

You and your family are responsible for covering the difference between the total billed expenses and your financial aid as well as repaying loans borrowed towards the cost of education. To help plan for these expenses, visit our website.

What will my award look like in future years?

With the BU Scholarship Assurance, the total amount of BU scholarship aid is guaranteed for each of your undergraduate years for a maximum of 8 semesters. The names of individual BU awards may change from year-to-year, but the total dollar amount of your BU financial aid will not be less than the amount received in your initial year. Your aid cannot exceed your cost of attendance and you must meet academic requirements. Good news! Your BU scholarship aid will increase each year at the same percentage rate as any future tuition increase.

What does this mean? If BU tuition goes up 3.5% then your BU need-based financial aid will also be increased by 3.5%. It is important to know that this increase may not be for the same dollar amount as the tuition increase since it is a percentage, and it also does not include any increase to the cost of dining plans and housing. Your total annual cost will likely increase each year. For more important information on how to plan for the cost of all four years, visit our "Just Admitted to BU?" website. BU uses a unique calculation to determine your demonstrated financial need over 4 years when calculating your initial award. The calculation assumes that certain younger siblings will enroll in college and older siblings in college will graduate. This calculation allows us to offer you an award in your first year that takes these future changes into account. As a result, your aid will not increase in future years because of siblings entering college, but it also won't decrease if a sibling enrolled in college graduates.

How to Renew your award?

If you already have a BU need-based scholarship, you will only need to re-file the FAFSA annually to re-apply for your federal and state aid. No need to complete the CSS Profile as your BU aid is automatically renewed with BU Scholarship Assurance!

If you have not received BU need-based aid in previous years and would like to be considered, you will need to apply as a new applicant. Please complete the FAFSA, CSS Profile, and submit an Appeal for Financial Assistance Reconsideration including parent tax returns and w-2s.

Appeal for Reconsideration of the initial Need-Based Aid Decision

Before you decide to enroll at BU, we strongly recommend that you make a plan to finance BU based on the initial award offered with your admission decision. BU Scholarship Assurance guarantees your award for up to eight semesters and is an important planning tool in making your enrollment decision.

If you have had a significant change in circumstances that will impact your plan for this year, BU Financial Assistance can review an appeal for reconsideration prior to your enrollment deposit deadline. Please submit a complete appeal as soon as possible during your appeal review window. We cannot consider any additional appeals after you have deposited for enrollment during your first year.

For more information and instructions on submitting an appeal, as well as frequently asked questions, please visit our website. Please do not email your appeal or supporting documents. Appeals received via email will not be reviewed. We also cannot access documents submitted through IDOC.

Your enrollment deposit must be paid by the date stipulated by BU Admissions regardless of the status of any financial aid appeal unless you receive approval for a deposit extension from BU Admissions.

How to Maintain Your Eligibility

Sometimes plans change, which is ok! If you are planning to make any of the following changes to your enrollment, let us know so we can help you plan any potential changes to your award as a result.

- Enrollment - To be eligible for renewal of any financial aid under the BU Scholarship Assurance, you must be enrolled in at least 12 credits each semester. Reducing your enrollment to below 12 credits could result in a loss of part or all your aid.
- Changing your housing status from Resident to Commuter status.
- Name, Address, Housing, or Degree status.

Maintain satisfactory academic progress - To be eligible for renewal of financial aid, you must maintain a cumulative grade point average (GPA) of 2.00 and complete 75% of your attempted courses. Satisfactory academic progress will be reviewed at the beginning of each academic year. Boston University also requires that students meet this same standard for credit-based loan certification, including federal, state, and private credit-based loans.

Once classes begin, students who withdraw or take a leave of absence during the first semester of the academic year will not be eligible for financial aid until they have completed at least 12 credits with a minimum GPA of 2.00, unless extenuating circumstances are documented.

Eligibility for federal funding is limited to 6 years of full-time undergraduate enrollment. Eligibility for University and state grant is limited to 8 semesters of full-time undergraduate enrollment.

Notify BU Financial Assistance of receipt of additional aid - Federal regulations require that your total financial aid not exceed your demonstrated financial need. You must promptly inform BU Financial Assistance in writing of any additional aid you receive from any source, either within or outside of Boston University, including scholarships, grants, tuition remission, tuition benefits, ROTC, educational loans, or other aid. If you receive any additional aid, your need-based scholarship will be reduced if your total aid from all sources exceeds your demonstrated financial need.

Please be aware of any deadlines or requirements to re-apply for Federal or State grants in subsequent academic years. If you do not receive state grant funds for which you are otherwise eligible, those funds will not be replaced with BU funds.

Fulfill your financial obligations to the University. Your financial aid may be canceled if you do not complete registration and settle your account by each semester's payment deadline.

Merit Awards

If your award includes a Boston University Merit-based award, congratulations on your selection!

Your merit award will be automatically renewed if you meet all of the renewal conditions outlined in this guide as well as any specific renewal requirements listed for your award. Some merit awards include additional requirements to those listed in this guide, such as an annual 3.0 GPA and residing in on-campus housing.

Study Abroad – BU Merit awards are available only for academic year study abroad programs operated by Boston University. Tuition-based scholarships will be updated to match the tuition portion of the study abroad program fee if it is less than the standard BU tuition.

BU Community Service Award

Boston University enjoys a dynamic engagement with the City of Boston. Boston University's commitment to meet, without loans, the full demonstrated financial need of any admitted Boston public high school graduate is a strong and tangible component of that engagement.

This award is offered with a few unique requirements and features established to enhance the quality of students' learning experiences and maximize their success at BU:

- A mentor, who is a Boston University faculty or staff member, is provided for each recipient and serves throughout the student's entire undergraduate enrollment as a resource and support.
- After the first academic semester, recipients must perform 25 hours of community service per semester. Recipients are guided through their community service projects by their mentor.
- Recipients must maintain a 2.00 cumulative grade point average and successfully complete at least 12 credits each semester.

Scholarships and Grants

Scholarships and grants do not have to be repaid. BU scholarships are made possible in part by generous gifts from alumni and friends of the University. At any time during the academic year your Boston University Scholarship may become a 'named' scholarship if you meet the conditions of an award endowed by a specific donor.

Student Employment

Students are encouraged to work part time during the academic year. There are many work opportunities on campus, for more information on work opportunities, visit our website.

Loans

Unlike scholarships and grants, loans must be repaid. For more information on specific loan programs including Federal Direct Student Loans, Massachusetts No Interest Loans,

Federal PLUS Loans, and other credit-based loans, visit our website.
