Guide to Your Federal/State Financial Aid

2021/2022

This guide is provided to you as a recipient of federal and/or state financial aid to help you understand the terms and conditions associated with your financial aid. We encourage you to share this information with anyone helping you with college expenses. If you have questions or concerns, we will be happy to assist you.

Next Steps

- Acknowledge your financial aid and pay careful attention to all instructions. Acknowledging your financial aid affirms that you understand and agree to the terms and conditions specified in this guide.
- If you are a new student, pay the required nonrefundable enrollment deposit by the date stipulated by BU Admissions. The deposit deadline may differ from the deadline to acknowledge your financial aid. Your aid may be withdrawn if you do not acknowledge it and pay the enrollment deposit by the specified deadlines. If you choose to defer your admission, you will forfeit all financial aid from Boston University.
- You will be notified if documentation is needed to verify family income to finalize your aid and credit funds to your student account. Your prompt response is required.

How Financial Aid Awards Are Determined

Your eligibility for federal financial aid is based on your FAFSA (Free Application for Federal Student Aid). After verifying the accuracy of the information you reported, formulas legislated by Congress are applied to your FAFSA information. An Expected Family Contribution (EFC) is determined and consists of: 1) a calculated parent contribution, 2) 20 percent of a student's accumulated savings, and 3) expected savings from student employment other than Federal Work-Study. Total expenses (bu.edu/finaid/aid-basics/cost-of-education/undergraduate) for the 2020/2021 academic year for a student in University housing were $77,662. Total expenses for the 2021/2022 academic year are detailed on our website once they are announced.

The EFC is subtracted from the total expenses for the academic year to determine your demonstrated financial need, which is your maximum eligibility. Total financial aid from all sources cannot exceed this amount.

How to Maintain Your Eligibility

Federal/State Financial aid terms and conditions are subject to change in subsequent years.

1. Maintain satisfactory academic progress. To be eligible for renewal of any financial aid, you must complete at least 12 credits in each semester of the prior academic year. To be eligible for federal and state funds, you must meet the following grade point average (GPA) requirements: after completion of one academic year, a minimum GPA of 1.70; after completion of two years, a cumulative GPA of at least 2.00. Enrollment at other institutions is not considered in these determinations. Boston University also requires that students meet this same standard for credit-based loan certification, including federal, state, and private credit-based loans.

Awards are usually offered for the full academic year, and academic progress is reviewed at the end of each academic year. However, financial aid will be canceled for the second half of the year, and loans (federal, state, and private) will not be certified, if a full-time student fails to earn at least a 1.00 grade point index (GPI) or fails to successfully complete at least 8 credits by mid-year. Once classes begin, students who withdraw or take a leave of absence during the first semester of the academic year will not be eligible for federal/state financial aid until they have completed at least 12 credits, with a minimum GPA of 2.00, unless extenuating circumstances are documented. Eligibility for federal funds is limited to 6 years of full-time undergraduate enrollment.

2. Apply for federal and state financial aid every year. Application materials for the 2022/2023 academic year will be available in October 2021. Renewal of federal and state financial aid is contingent upon your meeting all eligibility criteria. The type and amount of future aid will depend on your demonstrated financial need and availability of those federal/state funds. Academic requirements for renewal of federal and state funds are stated above.

Applicants who did not receive BU need-based scholarship aid in a prior year for whatever reason are welcome to apply for it in subsequent years. A minimum annual GPA of 2.00 for the prior academic year and a minimum of 12 successfully completed credits each semester of the prior academic year are required for you to be considered for a first-time BU need-based scholarship award.

3. Fulfill your financial obligations to the University. You cannot receive financial aid and have an outstanding balance due from a prior enrollment period. Thus, you must promptly pay any remaining balance owed.

Tuition Remission

At Boston University, tuition remission may cover up to 100 percent of tuition for 8 semesters in a degree program for unmarried dependent children of eligible regular, full-time employees who have an assignment of at least a nine-month duration. An employee's spouse, and employees who are students themselves, may also receive tuition remission benefits. Amounts are not guaranteed and students should advise BU Financial Assistance if the actual benefit amount approved by BU Human Resources will differ from the amount stated on the Financial Aid Award notification. The employee must apply for this benefit prior to the beginning of each semester. Application forms are available at BU Human Resources and online at bu.edu/hr. If you indicated on your financial aid application that you expect to receive tuition benefits through Boston University or through another institution, our estimate of those benefits, based on the information you report to us, may be included on the enclosed award notification.
