

A lecture by Paul Nunn, Coordinator of the Stop TB Program, WHO

Extremely Drug Resistant TB: Global Challenges & Implications for HIV Control

Dr. Nunn is leading the WHO efforts to control tuberculosis drug resistance, to provide community based care for tuberculosis, and address the double burden of HIV & tuberculosis.

When: Friday, February 1, 2008

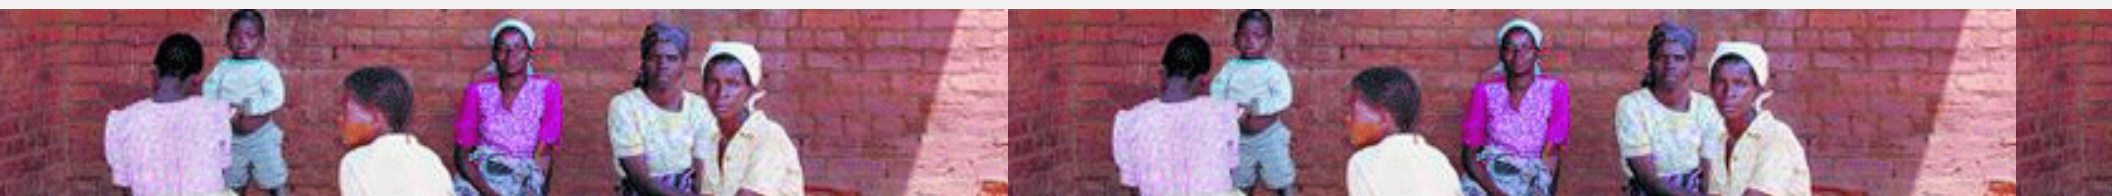

Noon—1:00pm

Where: Keefer Auditorium

BU School of Medicine

715 Albany Street

Boston, MA 02118

Hosted by the BMC Center for HIV/AIDS Care and Research, the Global Health Initiative at Boston University and the Boston University School of Medicine—Department of Medicine

