The Power of Timing

- All about the what if...
Networking Lesson 1

Put yourself in situations to meet who you want to meet and learn what you want to learn
Leverage your network to find people who can assist you with connections to people who will impact your life.
Networking Lesson 3

Have your elevator pitch ready
Networking Lesson 4

Utilize your network to find the resources you need
Making Connections

Put yourself in situations to meet who you want to meet and learn what you want to learn
Finding a Career – Where to Start?

A few questions to ask yourself:

- What do you like?
- What are you passionate about?
- What are you good at?
- What do your peers/teachers think you are good at?
- What motivates you?
- What culture do you want to be in?
- What location do you want to be in?

Answers to these questions can narrow down your focus areas as you think about your career.
Connections Through Organizations

- Local Networking Groups
  - i.e. AWIS, WEST, HBA, AAPS, AACR

- State Organizations
  - i.e. Biotech/Medical Device Focused, i.e. MassBio, NYBA, MassDevice

- National Organizations
  - Biotechnology Industry Association (Bio)

- Industry Associations
  - i.e. Drug Information Association (DIA), American Association of Pharmaceutical Scientists (AAPS), American Institute of Chemical Engineers (AIChE)

- Sector Specific
  - i.e. Oncology focused, Medical Device focused, Drug Metabolism Focused, etc
Networking Groups Include

Women Based:
- Association for Women in Science: http://www.awis.org/

Sector/Area Focused:
- Systems and Synthetic Biology Groups, i.e. Boston’s chapter: http://www.bassbiology.org/
- Drug Metabolism Discussion Groups, i.e. New England’s Chapter: www.NEDMDG.org
Networking Groups Include

Entrepreneurially Focused:
- The Capital Network: http://www.thecapitalnetwork.org
- TIE: http://www.tie.org
- Startup leadership Program: http://www.startupleadership.com/

Making connections happens in many ways
Be creative – your career will benefit from this.
Networking

Leverage your network to find people who can assist you with connections to people who will impact your life.
Connections Through People

- Lab mates
- Former colleagues
- Individuals you meet at events
- Biotech professionals who speak at events
- Friends
- Mentors
- LinkedIn connections
Follow Up With Your Network

- Use Linkedin to keep in touch
- Send a thank you note (hand written preferred)
- Try to help your contacts – 2 way relationships go along way!
- If you get a job, update your contacts to keep in touch.
- Relationships are built over time
Relationships are built over time

- Be patient
- Be yourself
- Relationships take time to mature
- Nurture them and watch them flourish!
A Point to Consider

If you have coffee once a week with someone new, you will have

- in 1 year, 52 new contacts
- in 5 years, 260 new contacts
- in 10 years, 520 new contacts

Plus new connections from all of their connections
Elevator Pitches
Importance of Elevator Pitches

- Having a polished elevator pitch ready makes a memorable first impression.
- Shows that you can communicate effectively.
- Should be a short (~30 second) description of your background and what you are looking for. (being succinct is key!)
- If people want to learn more, then they can ask you for more details.
- Provide the listener with an opportunity to assist you.
Hello (Ellen). My name is Lauren and I am a (post doc) at (Columbia) studying (neuroscience – specifically Alzheimer’s formation). I will be finishing up in (6 months) and looking for a (research role) in a (smaller biotech). What is your background?
Utilizing your Network

Utilize your network to find the resources you need
Linkedin Connections

- Search your contacts to see who knows people or companies that you are interested in

- Ask them for an intro or referral or

- Ask them for insights on the person or company
Referrals are Important in Careers

- Getting a referral into a company for a role is very important
- Shows you are focused
- Networked
- Not just a random application
Tips for Networking
Working the Room

- Arrive Early
- Develop Your Elevator Pitch
- Have Business Cards
- Opening Lines
- Two Sided Network
- Coffee, Food, Drinks...
- Bring a Friend
Follow Up

- Business Cards
- LinkedIn
- Keeping track of people (SalesForce)
- Contacting via Email and Phone
- Keeping in Touch
- Finding Reasons to Follow up
  - i.e news feeds, press releases, etc
TIPS to Follow up with your Network

- Use LinkedIn to keep in touch
- Send a thank you note (hand written preferred)
- Try to help your contacts – 2 way relationships go along way!
- If you get a job, update your contacts to keep in touch.
- Relationships are built over time
Online Presence
Overseeing Your Online Presence

- Your online avatar meets the hiring manager before you do
- Online material lives forever
- Privacy rights vs. due diligence
Using LinkedIn

- >30% of jobs are filled using LinkedIn
- If you are serious about your career, you will be on LinkedIn
- Add details about your research/background
- Build our your profile
- Join LinkedIn groups to keep informed

On-Line Presence – A Picture of You

Will your on-line presence resonate with someone who doesn’t already know you personally?
Job Search Tips

- Make a target list of companies/roles that interest you
- Try to identify people who can help you find more about the company/role
- Track your progress and grow/change the list over time
- Be strategic and focused
HR Professionals and On-Line Searching

- Many use LinkedIn and key word searches
- Many post opportunities on LinkedIn groups
- Many search conferences to identify individuals relevant to them
- They want to see
  - “professional pictures”
  - a sense that you would represent them well if hired
- Do not have a silly Facebook profile photo
- Be careful of being tagged in pictures
- Pay attention to your activities and interests – ensure they do not say things like drinking, wasting time, not showing up to work, etc
- Do not synchronize LinkedIn with Facebook
Twitter

- Can provide thought leadership
- Can allow you to follow companies/people you are interested in
- Can allow you to know “what’s happening” in real time
- Can be used in conjunction with blogs to create a social presence
Blogs

- Can show thought leadership
- Allow individuals to follow your thoughts
- Can provide a forum for you to discuss your achievements
- Can be a strong compliment to your resume and LinkedIn profile
- WordPress is a site you can use to create a blog
- Allows you to follow companies or people
- Provides daily or weekly news feeds
- Provides insight into companies that may be hiring
- Great resource for background information if interviewing with company
Lessons Learned

- Timing is powerful
- Chance favors the prepared mind
- Relationships are built over time
- Elevator pitches do happen
- Be open to meeting people and follow up to build relationships
- Have something to “offer” the person you are networking with – relationships are two-sided
- Relevant contacts can come from friends, business relationships, classmates, networking contacts, ...
You never know when a conversation or meeting may foster future opportunities...
