

Human Resources Management Trainee:

The right candidate will have a can-do attitude and must possess excellent communication/computer (Microsoft Office) skills. Able to work under pressure and multi-task. Experience in hotel industry preferred, but not required. This position will report to the Learning & Development Manager.

This is a great opportunity for a graduate to gain firsthand experience in a luxury hotel operation, and exposure to the Human Resources Department with the planning and development of training activities for the pre-opening stage.
