Child Care and Preschool Education Programs

Boston University offers two child care and preschool education programs:

- The Boston University Children’s Center has full-time and part-time programs for children from two to six years of age. In the late Spring of 2020, the Center will move to a new location and accommodate children from infant to five years. For additional information and application forms, view the website at www.bu.edu/childrens-center.

- The Early Childhood Learning Lab, an open enrollment preschool for children two years and nine months to five years old, is operated by the School of Education. Learning Lab programs run morning and afternoon sessions, Monday through Friday. For additional information and application forms, view their website at www.bu.edu/sed/community-outreach/programs/ecll or contact them at: The Director Early Childhood Learning Lab Boston University School of Education 2 Silber Way Boston, MA 02215 Phone: 617-353-3410 Space in both programs is limited. If you are interested in them, we encourage you to talk to the directors as early as possible.

DASH for Health

This voluntary program is designed to help you eat better, exercise better, lose weight, and lower blood pressure; it was developed by physicians at BU and Boston Medical Center.

What is DASH for Health?

DASH for Health is an online nutrition and weight loss program that is FREE to all Boston University employees and up to three of their adult household members. Its aim is to help you learn better eating and exercise habits and it was designed right here at BU by a team of doctors and nutritionists lead by Dr. Tom Moore, on the Medical Campus.

New information is provided on the DASH website twice each week. Articles cover food, food preparation, eating out, losing weight, getting fit, and much more. In addition to providing new information each week, you have a web page especially for you where you can track progress in areas such as your weight, food intake, blood pressure, and exercise. The program has been tested with several thousand people and there is good evidence that people who use the program successfully reduce their weight, lower their blood pressure, and improve their eating habits. It’s recommended by the American Heart Association.

How do I Enroll?

To learn more about DASH for Health, go to www.bu.edu/hr/health-wellness/wellness-programs/dash-for-health-nutrition-program and enter your BU username and Kerberos password. You will see the link that will connect you to the DASH for Health website where you can take a tour of the program and get more information about enrolling.
Maximize My Social Security

My Social Security helps you decide when and how to collect retiree, spousal, survivor, divorcee, parent, and child benefits to achieve the highest lifetime benefits. Features include: web-based platform, side-by-side comparison of chosen and optimal strategy, one-year license.

Developed by Laurence Kotlikoff, Professor of Economics at Boston University, Maximize My Social Security incorporates all Social Security provisions and options for singles and married couples. View a video demo at http://maximizemysocialsecurity.com/content/quick-demo. BU is providing faculty and staff with a coupon equal to the purchase price—($50 value)—of the software. All you pay is the sales tax. To purchase Maximize My Social Security, contact BU Human Resources for your coupon code. Go to www.maximizemysocialsecurity.com and select Maximize My Social Security. Enter the coupon code in your shopping cart and proceed to checkout. You will need to pay the sales tax using your credit card.

MaxiFi Standard

MaxiFi Standard (formerly MaxiFi Planner) is a full, lifetime financial planning tool that determines how much to spend and save each year as well as how much life insurance to hold each year to ensure your family has the most stable possible living standard without putting you into debt. MaxiFi Standard also robo-optimizes your plan. It suggests Social Security benefit collection, retirement account benefit withdrawal, and retirement account annuitization strategies to maximize your lifetime spending. You can also use the tool to consider other safe ways to raise your lifetime including contributing more to retirement accounts, downsizing your home, switching jobs, or getting an advanced degree.

MaxiFi Premium

MaxiFi Premium includes all of MaxiFi’s features, but also has fully precise Monte Carlo living standard simulations that show you your average living standard level and the risk to your living standard of investing as well as spending aggressively.

Developed by Boston University Professor Laurence Kotlikoff, MaxiFi software is powered by the patented Economic Security Computation Engine, and it allows you to build a lifetime financial road map using all your financial data.

To purchase either version of MaxiFi, contact BU Human Resources for your coupon code. Go to MaxiFi and select ‘Add to cart’. You must use your Boston University email account, otherwise the coupon will not work. Enter your coupon code to cover the purchase price of the software and proceed to checkout.

You will receive a login link at the email address that you use during the checkout process just like their paying customers do.

• Consultation
• Problem assessment
• Short-term psychotherapy
• Referral resource information
If you have a problem and are in doubt about the wisest course of action, we encourage you to contact the program. In response to your call, a counselor will meet with you to discuss your problems and consider solutions. If additional specialized counseling proves necessary, a referral will be made. Inquiries are confidential; no one will know you have used the Faculty & Staff Assistance Office unless you tell them.

For additional information or to schedule an appointment, call 617-353-5381 or visit their website at www.bu.edu/fsao. Appointments are generally scheduled between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m., Monday through Friday. After-hours appointments may be arranged upon request.

Faculty & Staff Assistance Office

The Boston University Faculty & Staff Assistance Office provides confidential counseling and referral services. It is available to you and your family members if you are experiencing personal, family, or work-related problems. Services are available without charge and include:

If you have any questions, please contact Human Resources at HR@bu.edu or call 617-353-2380.

Personal Insurance
This program offers a special discount on the cost of automobile and homeowners insurance for Massachusetts residents. It is currently underwritten by Liberty Mutual. You are eligible to participate in the program if you are a Massachusetts resident, provided you have not failed to pay an automobile insurance premium during the past 12 months. Enrollment is completely voluntary and is handled directly by Liberty Mutual.

Coverage includes:
- Automobile coverage through a group discount plan
- Homeowners and renters insurance
- Umbrella coverage
- Premium payment by payroll deduction or monthly home billing (premium payments are on an after-tax basis)
For more information, contact Liberty Mutual at 1-888-480-4566 or go to www.libertymutual.com/buemployee.

Real Estate Services

- Assistance with home finding and selling
- Mortgage services
- Relocation and moving services

For more information, contact the Real Estate Advantage Program at 1-800-396-0960. Visit their website at www.realestate-advantage.net/reabu/index.html.

Metro Credit Union

Join 11,000 Boston University faculty, staff, students, and other supporters by becoming a member of Metro Credit Union (www.metrocu.org). As a member, you have access to numerous financial services, including checking accounts, savings accounts, IRAs, and auto and home loans. The Credit Union also provides financial calculators and other helpful tools.

Metro Credit Union is another University resource for you and your family. Employees, retirees, students, and all family members are eligible to become a Metro Credit Union member. And at Metro Credit Union, you stay a member for life—even if you retire or leave Boston University.

For more information, please call 1-877-MYMETRO or visit the Credit Union’s branch, located on the Charles River Campus at 922 Commonwealth Avenue. Visit their website at www.metrocu.org.

Additional Benefits

In addition to your Boston University benefits, federal and state laws require employers to provide you with certain other benefits. These statutory benefits include Social Security, Unemployment Compensation, and Workers’ Compensation.

Boston University pays the entire cost of Unemployment Compensation and Workers’ Compensation and also contributes to the cost of your Social Security benefits.

Statutory benefits may provide you and your family with financial assistance, in addition to University-sponsored benefits, when you are injured on the job, become disabled, retire, or die.

Social Security

The Social Security Act provides a range of programs to afford you a basic level of benefits in the event of your retirement, death, or disability. Most of these benefits are financed by payroll taxes.

Your Social Security benefits include:
- Retirement insurance
- Survivors’ insurance
- Disability insurance
- Medicare
- Supplemental security income

Social Security benefits are adjusted frequently, and the rules and regulations change. You should contact your local Social Security office to obtain the latest information about the benefits to which you may be entitled.

Unemployment Compensation

The University pays the Commonwealth of Massachusetts the cost of your unemployment compensation. You may be eligible to receive unemployment compensation benefits if you lose your job through no fault of your own. Unemployment compensation is coordinated through the Massachusetts Division of Unemployment Assistance, which determines your eligibility.

Workers’ Compensation

Massachusetts Workers’ Compensation laws prescribe certain medical, hospital, disability compensation, rehabilitation, and death benefits to be paid in the event of injury or death due to work-related accidents or illnesses. Boston University pays the full cost of insurance to cover these benefits. You are automatically covered by this insurance while you are employed by the University.

If you are injured while you are at work, report the injury to your supervisor immediately. Remember, minor injuries (which at the time may seem trivial, but may later require medical attention) may also be covered, provided they are reported when they occur.
