

Michael T. Corgan

(B.S., U.S. Naval Academy; M.P.A., University of Washington; Ph.D., Boston University) International Security, U.S. Political Institutions, Icelandic Affairs.

Specialist in international security, Icelandic government and politics, American governmental institutions. Extensive government service in political and military planning (especially NATO). Media analyst on security and political affairs.

EDUCATION

- Ph.D. Political Science, Boston University, 1991
- Master Public Administration, University of Washington, 1975
- B.S. Naval Engineering, U.S. Naval Academy, 1963

CURRENT POSITIONS

- Assoc. Prof., Dept. of International Relations, Boston University (1996-present)
- Lecturer, Political Science Dept., Boston University (1993 - present)
- Lecturer, History Department, Boston University (1990-present)
- International Affairs Analyst, various Boston broadcast media (1989-present)

PREVIOUS TEACHING-PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

- Professor of National Security Affairs, US Naval War College, 1991-1993
- Lecturer, Departments of Political Science and History, Boston University, 1986-88
- Director of Admin., Metropolitan College, Boston University, 1988-90
- Chairman, Dept. of Naval Science, Boston University, 1987
- Professor of Strategy, U.S. Naval War College, Newport, RI, 1978-81 and 1982-85
- Political Advisor to Commander, Iceland Defense Force, 1981-82
- Instructor, National War College, Washington, DC, 1975-76
- Dean of Academics, Vietnamese Naval Academy, 1970-71
- Instructor, US Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md. 1967-70
- Surface Warfare Officer, U.S. Navy, sea-duty and policy planning assignments

COURSES DEVELOPED AND TAUGHT

Massachusetts Institute of Technology

Clausewitz in Modern State Relations Summers '89-'93

Boston University: International Relations Department

Introduction to International Relations Fall '96

Introduction to Security Studies Fall '93, Summer '94, Fall '94, '95

Boston University: Political Science Department

American Political Parties

American Public Policy Spring '94, Spring '96

Approaches to the Study of Foreign Policy Spring '93

International Relations Theory Spring '91

Comparative Politics Fall '90

American Legislative Process Spring '89, Fall '89

Presidential Leadership Fall '88, Fall '92, Summer '96

Bureaucracy and Administration in U.S. Government Spring '88, Fall '93

Introduction to American Foreign Policy Summer '86

Boston University: History Department

The Navy and American History Spring '90 - present

War in the Western World Spring '91

PUBLICATIONS AND PAPERS

Books

Chapter: "A Clausewitzian Analysis of the Gulf War" in Head and Tilford, Eagle in the Desert (Westview Press) 1996

National Security: Readings and Case Studies, Co-editor and author of sections, Government Printing Office, 1994

Forthcoming Books

Book on the government and politics of Iceland in the 1980s

Articles in Refereed Journals

"Athdragandinn vestanhafs ath Bandaríkjamanna Íslandi 1941" [Antecedents in North America Leading to the Military Defense of Iceland by Americans], Saga XXX, Reykjavik, Iceland

[Pamphlet of Swedish translation of above article]:

"Den Amerikanska Presidentmakten och det Västra Halvklotet Bakgrunden til USA:s Ockupation av Island den 7 Juli 1941," Nordic Council, Reykjavik, 1994.

"Franklin D. Roosevelt and the American Occupation of Iceland," Naval War College Review, Newport, RI, Fall 1992

"Theodore Roosevelt and A.T. Mahan: The Assessment of Influence," Naval War College Review, Newport, RI, December 1980

Other publications

Reviews in various academic and professional journals.

Paper: "The Expansion of Presidential Powers and the Western Hemisphere: The American Occupation of Iceland, 7 July 1941," Nordic Council Symposium, Hernam og Stridar [Occupation and War], Reykjavik, Iceland, May 1990

Paper: "Icelandic Views on the Arctic and Law of the Sea," International Conference of the International Studies Association, London, May 1989

Paper: "The U.S. Navy in the Persian Gulf and Law of the Sea," International Studies Association/Political Science Association Joint Conference, Providence, RI, September 1988

Paper: "Lessons of the Falklands War," Conference on the Falklands War, Naval War College, Newport, RI, November 1984

"Sino-Soviet Relations," National War College Proceedings of the 2nd Annual Conference on International Security, Washington, DC, June 1975.

AWARDS

- Award for teaching excellence, Naval War College, 1992 and 1993
- Ph.D. awarded with highest distinction, 1991
- Henry S. Miller Prize for best historical essay in Naval War College Review, 1993

MISCELLANEOUS

- Member, Cable Advisory Commission, Town of Falmouth
- Member, Home Rule Charter Review Committee, Town of Falmouth
- Host and Director of "Falmouth Issues and Answers" weekly TV show, FCTV-13
- Political-Military Affairs Analyst, WHDH-AM and WBZ-AM Boston and WCBS-AM New York; regular panelist on "The Group," WGBH-TV (PBS)
- Presidential Affairs Analyst on Monitor Television Network, 1991-93
- Translation capability in Russian, French, Icelandic
- Lecturer on Icelandic government and politics and Nordic politics
- Counselor, Masters' Degree Programs, BU Prison Education Program, 1988-91
- Member: American Political Science Association, American Academy of Political Science, Center for the Study of the Presidency, International Studies Association, Society of Military History, Bruckner Society of America

