IMPROVED HEALTH AT A REDUCED COST?
ECONOMIC PERSPECTIVES ON THE PATIENT PROTECTION & AFFORDABLE CARE ACT
A Symposium Presented by the American Journal of Law & Medicine
FRIDAY, JANUARY 24, 2014
BOSTON UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF LAW
As the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (ACA) is implemented, states, healthcare industry stakeholders, employers, and citizens must navigate their way through a challenging new healthcare market. The administration contends that this new market is the key to improved health at a reduced cost. Panelists will analyze and discuss wide-reaching economic impacts of the ACA, including impacts on provision of healthcare services, labor and employment, state Medicaid programs, and the insurance industry.

IMPROVED HEALTH AT A REDUCED COST? ECONOMIC PERSPECTIVES ON THE PATIENT PROTECTION & AFFORDABLE CARE ACT

FRIDAY, JANUARY 24, 2014
BOSTON UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF LAW

As the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (ACA) is implemented, states, healthcare industry stakeholders, employers, and citizens must navigate their way through a challenging new healthcare market. The administration contends that this new market is the key to improved health at a reduced cost. Panelists will analyze and discuss wide-reaching economic impacts of the ACA, including impacts on provision of healthcare services, labor and employment, state Medicaid programs, and the insurance industry.

MODERATORS:
KATHY ZEILER
Georgetown University
Law Center &
Boston University School of Law
Visiting Professor (2013-2014)

ABIGAIL MONCRIEFF
Boston University
School of Law

CONTRIBUTING AUTHORS:
JOSHUA ARCHAMBAULT
Pioneer Institute

DAVID AUERBACH
RAND Corporation

WENDY MARINER
Boston University
School of Public Health
Boston University School of Law &
Boston University
School of Medicine

JAMES REBITZER
Boston University
Department of Economics &
Boston University
School of Management

MEREDITH ROENTHAL
Harvard School of Public Health

BENJAMIN SOMMERS
Harvard School of Public Health

with:

SARAH GORDON
Harvard School of Public Health

STEPHEN SOMERS
Center for Health Care Strategies

CAROLYN INGRAM
Center for Health Care Strategies

ARNOLD EPSTEIN
Harvard School of Public Health

JEAN SULLIVAN
Center for Health Law and Economics at UMass Medical School

JULIA FELDMAN
Center for Health Law and Economics at UMass Medical School

KATHARINE LONDON
Center for Health Law and Economics at UMass Medical School

ROBERT SEIFERT
Center for Health Law and Economics at UMass Medical School

▼

All—including faculty, students and the general public—are welcome to attend. To register, please contact Elizabeth Aggott at lawevent@bu.edu. For academic questions, please contact the AJLM Symposium Editors at ajlmsymposium@gmail.com. For additional information, please visit http://www.bu.edu/law/events/upcoming/#AJLM.

Contributing Authors as of November 25, 2013