In which we investigate...

- The melodic and rhythmic structures of human language!
- How language is and is not like music!
- Why cockatoos can dance, but dogs can’t!
- Whether the language you speak influences your competence as a musician!
- Whether questions always rise at the end in the languages of the world, and whether rising at the end of statements really makes it seem like you’re not sure what you’re saying...
- How it is possible to sing/whisper/be tone-deaf as a speaker of a tone language!
- Much, much more!!!

Prereqs: CAS LX 250 Introduction to Linguistics and CAS LX 301 / GRS LX 601 Phonetics and Phonology