Learn about:

- The physical matter of language
- How words are formed
- How sentences are structured
- How meaning is constructed and interpreted
- What all languages have in common and how they can differ
- How languages vary and change
- How language is used in social settings
- How language is learned
- Multilingualism and language contact
- Lots, lots more!

NO PREREQUISITES!

Satisfies Humanities Divisional Studies requirements as well as Hub unites for Scientific Inquiry I; Global Citizenship & Intercultural Literacy; & Critical Thinking