

Joseph W. Wippl

Background: Born on September 19, 1944 in Milwaukee, Wisconsin

Education: B.A. Marquette University, History and German (1966)
M.A. European History, University of Minnesota (1969)
Ph.D. Candidate, European History, University of Minnesota (1970)

Family: Divorced, three children

Employment:

- 18 June, 1972 Entry on Duty as Career Trainee in the Central Intelligence Agency, Directorate of Operations
- 1972-1974 Training and Desk Duty
- 1974-1981 Officer, Europe
- 1981-1983 Officer, Foreign Resources Division, USA
- 1983-1984 Spanish language training
- 1984-1986 Deputy Chief of Office, Central American Country
- 1986-1988 Chief of Office, European country
- 1988-1990 Deputy Chief of Office, European Country
- 1990-1992 Deputy Chief of Office, Central American country
- 1992-1994 Deputy Chief, Human Resources, Directorate of Operations
- 1994-1995 Member Ames Damage Assessment Team, Community Management Staff, Central Intelligence Agency
- 1995-1998 Chief of Office, European country
- 1998-2001 Chief, Europe Division, Directorate of Operations
- 2001-2003 Chief of Office, European country
- 2003-2004 Lecturer, George C. Marshall Center for Security Studies; Lecturer, Geneva Center for Security Policy; and Consultant for Organization for Security and Cooperation in Europe.
- 2005 Director, Office of Congressional Affairs, Central Intelligence Agency
- 2005-2006 Richard Helms Chair for Intelligence, National Clandestine Service
- 2006-2008 Officer in Residence, Boston University
- 2009-Present Senior Lecturer, Boston University, Department of International Relations

During a career of over 30 years in the Central Intelligence Agency's Directorate of Operations, I have dealt with almost every important intelligence issue during that time span. These issues include the Soviet Union, the Eastern Bloc, covert action projects, technology transfer, counterterrorism, counter-proliferation, counter-narcotics, counterintelligence and liaison relations with all the countries of Western Europe. I have had working relations with the National Security Council, the Department of State, the Department of Defense and the Congress of the United States. I am the recipient of the Donovan Award from the Central Intelligence Agency and the Officer's Cross of the Federal Republic of Germany.