

Grant Marlier
72 2nd Place, Apt. 5
Brooklyn, NY 11231
gmarlier@bu.edu
917-733-2782

CURRICULUM VITAE:

EDUCATION:

Boston University

PhD in Political Science (Spring 2014)

Dissertation: "Expanding the Circle of Protection: The Evolution of Use of Force Norms within the UN Security Council"

Dissertation Advisor: Neta Crawford

Fields of Study: International Relations, Comparative Politics, US Foreign Policy

Boston University

Masters in Political Science (Fall 2010)

Fields of Study: International Relations, Comparative Politics, US Foreign Policy

The Ohio State University

Bachelors of Arts in Political Science (Spring 2007)

Honors: Honor Scholar, Magna cum laude; Mershon Undergraduate Fellow

Honors Thesis: "Insecurity, Scarcity, and Violence"

Honors Thesis Advisor: Alexander Wendt

FIELDS OF CONCENTRATION:

Major: International Relations

Minor: Comparative Politics

Subfield: US Foreign Policy

Areas of Interest: International Institutions, International Security, UN Security Council, US Foreign Policy, Environmental Politics, Migration

ACADEMIC PUBLICATIONS:

Grant Marlier and Neta Crawford, (2013), "The Incomplete and Imperfect Institutionalization of Empathy and Altruism in the 'Responsibility to Protect' Doctrine," Global Responsibility to Protect.

Grant Marlier
72 2nd Place, Apt. 5
Brooklyn, NY 11231
gmarlier@bu.edu
917-733-2782

Grant Marlier and De-Yuan Kao, (2014), "The Evolution of China's Normative Position on the Use of Force," The EU, the US and China: Towards the New International Order?, edited by Jing Men and Wei Shen, EE Publishing.

PAPERS PRESENTED:

"The Evolution of Use of Force Norms within the UN Security Council," paper presented at MPSA Conference 2012.

"The Chinese Perspective on Use of Force Norms," co-authored with De-Yuan Kao, paper presented at College of Europe Conference 2011.

"Insecurity, Scarcity, and Violence," The UPSO Journal of Politics & International Affairs, Vol. 1, Issue 1, Spring 2007.

WORKING PAPERS:

"Russia and the UN Security Council: The Putin Era"

"To and From Rwanda: Soudi's Story"

RESEARCH POSITIONS:

Boston University: Research Assistant to Prof. Neta Crawford (2010)

Pardee Center for the Study of the Longer-Range Future: Graduate Fellow (2008 – 2011)

Social Sciences Automation: Research and Coding (2006 - 2007)

TEACHING EXPERIENCE:

Boston University: Teaching Fellow, Introduction to Public Policy (2009-2010)

The Ohio State University: Tutor (2004-2007)

NON-ACADEMIC EXPERIENCE:

The Blue Ginger: Cook (2001-2004, 2007-2009)

Grant Marlier
72 2nd Place, Apt. 5
Brooklyn, NY 11231
gmarlier@bu.edu
917-733-2782

REFERENCES:

Neta Crawford, Boston University, crawfor@bu.edu
Thomas U. Berger, Boston University, tuberger@bu.edu
Timothy Longman, Boston University, longman@bu.edu