Boston, MA (September 14, 2010) - The Photographic Resource Center is pleased to announce the upcoming lecture by photographer and author Richard Renaldi.

In his lecture, Richard Renaldi will review 12 years of his work as a project-based photographer. He will discuss his book, Figure and Ground, a unique look at individuals and their environments in the shifting social and cultural landscape of America. He will also talk about his motivation for starting his own publishing company, Charles Lane Press, in 2008, which released Fall River Boys, a 9-year body of his work presenting a portrait of male adolescence set against the backdrop of a fading textile town.

The lecture will be followed by a workshop on Saturday, September 25, from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., in which Renaldi will draw on his experiences from Aperture and Charles Lane Press to discuss the editing, sequencing, and the preparation process behind publishing a photo book.
