

Annual Report on Program Student Learning Outcomes Assessment

Program: BA in History

Program Contact and Title: Louis Ferleger, Chair, Department of History

College/School Contact and Title: Susan Jackson, Associate Dean

Date: October 2013

1. List the learning outcomes for the program

Students graduating with a major in History should be able to:

1. Demonstrate knowledge of past societies and familiarity with patterns of social, political, economic, and cultural change.
2. Recognize how information can be used as historical data and analyze the role of evidence in the construction of historical arguments.
3. Understand the challenge of weighing multiple perspectives and evaluate the merits of competing interpretations.
4. Conduct research utilizing both primary and secondary sources and make assessments about the relative utility of gathered data.
5. Construct persuasive and evidence-based arguments about historical change and present them in written, visual, and oral formats.