

Annual Report on Program Learning Outcomes Assessment

Program: BS in Health Science

Program Contact and Title: Eileen B. O'Keefe, MD, MPH, Clinical Professor of Health Sciences
Director, Program in Health Science (ebokeefe@bu.edu)

College/School Contact and Title: Melanie L. Matthies, Sr. Assoc. Dean, matthies@ bu.edu

Date: 11/12/2015

1. List the learning outcomes for the program:

- Knowledge of human cultures and the physical and natural world as it relates to individual and population health.
 - i. List the leading causes of mortality, morbidity, and health disparities among local, regional, and global populations.
 - ii. Explain how the organization, financing, and delivery of medical and public health services impact population health.
 - iii. Assess the values and perspectives of diverse individuals, communities, and cultures and their influence on health behaviors, choices, and practices.
 - iv. Outline approaches for assessing and controlling environmental hazards that affect community health.
- Intellectual and practical skills to prepare students for future graduate school plans and research
 - i. Analyze alternative viewpoints regarding a health topic.
 - ii. Assess the source and quality of health information and data, as related to individual and community health.
 - iii. Appreciate the multiple determinants of health.
- Personal and social responsibility to prepare students for future jobs in various workplaces and environments.
 - i. Appreciate the role of community engagement in promoting population health and social justice.
 - ii. Advocate for evidence-based social changes that improve the health of individuals and communities.
 - iii. Value multicultural perspectives and sensitivities on health.
 - iv. Examine the fundamental right to health and health services.
 - v. Communicate health information to a wide range of audiences through an array of media