The Consultation at a Glance

Dean Moore’s Closing Reflection highlighted the following themes, critical values and challenges named during the three-day consultation

Themes:

1. Sharing narratives
2. Engaging people with one another across cultures, countries, and the world
3. Building on the diverse gifts and interests of peacemakers
4. Provide training and public witness: did not come up directly in last consultation
5. Preparing students with skills and attitudes to engage their faith communities and the larger society
6. Sharing our sacred practices
7. Cultivating humility and openness to what we can learn from other traditions
8. Cultivating imagination
9. Identifying goals, strategies, and networks so our collective work is more coherent, wise, and effective
10. Training people in the transformation of their institutions

Critical Values:

1. Companionship
2. Compassion
3. Change-agency
4. Collective Power

Challenges:

1. Defining the meaning of terms.
2. Addressing the challenges of time and budget.
4. Standing with and for people who are oppressed, when you know that your stance will stir conflict.