

Dr. Geoffrey White, PhD. Dr. White is currently Head of Business Development for CBT4CBT, LLC, a company of which he is the co-founder. He is also the retired CEO of Canget BioTek pharma (Buffalo, NY), a cancer drug discovery company. He has worked in the biotechnology sector since 1990, starting as a lab scientist and taking on positions of increasing responsibility up to the executive level. He has run drug discovery programs and has had leadership roles on teams that have resulted in over 10 INDs/IDEs being filed. Dr. White holds a number of patents and has commercialized a number of technologies. He has negotiated contracts and license agreements with numerous companies. He also serves or has served on the boards of or as an advisor to a number of drug discovery, software, and medical device companies such as NovelMed, Mitotherapeutics, Viropharma, Microtransponder, Core Informatics (purchased by ThermoFisher), CBT4CBT (founded by Dr. Kathleen Carroll of Yale and Dr. White), and others.