

MEGHAN G. GRAHAM, M.S., CCC-SLP

MGGRAHAM@BU.EDU

EDUCATION

- | | | |
|-----------|---|------------|
| 2004-2006 | Boston University | Boston, MA |
| | • Masters of Science, Speech Language Pathology | |
| 2000-2004 | Ithaca College | Ithaca, NY |
| | • Bachelor of Science, Teachers of Students with Speech and Language Disabilities | |

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

- | | | |
|--------------|---|------------|
| 2006-Present | Children's Therapy Associates | Natick, MA |
| | Speech-Language Pathologist, Director of Technology | |
| | <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Provide individualized speech-language services and comprehensive assessments to children aged 18 months through adolescence in a multi-disciplinary clinic-based setting that has included occupational therapy, physical therapy, neuropsychology, and reading support• Caseload includes children with a variety of communication disorders including developmental language delays, Autism Spectrum Disorders, written language and reading comprehension difficulties, language processing difficulties, executive functioning and attention concerns, Childhood Apraxia of Speech, as well as phonological and articulation disorders• Co-lead pragmatics groups for preschool and school-aged children with an occupational therapist to improve overall social communication skills with a focus on providing a balance between discrete teaching opportunities and naturalistic interactions• When clinically appropriate, provide individual speech-language therapy within the context of co-treatment sessions with an occupational therapist• Collaborate with other professionals working with clients to enhance the clinical process and provide the most effective treatment based on the child's overall profile• Incorporate technology into treatment to enhance therapeutic outcomes and keep staff up to date on current technology trends | |
| 2011-Present | all4mychild LLP | Boston, MA |
| | General Partner | |
| | <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Co-designed and oversaw development of the Social Adventures iOS application, a comprehensive social skills program. The app includes an informal assessment, intervention activities, visuals and related products to help clinicians, educators, and parents of children with social cognitive challenges.• Co-designed and oversaw development of the Bag Game iOS application. An interactive mobile game which encourages social interaction, and addresses various language concepts for parents and educators.• Co-administer of all4ychild.com which provides an active blog focusing on the use of both technology and/or social skills in intervention.• Creator and primary contributor for books4all blog which provides parents and educators with children's literature and recommended therapeutic activities to support speech and language development.• Utilize social media to build a professional learning network (PLN) | |
| 2012-Present | Boston University | Boston, MA |
| | Clinical Supervisor | |
| | <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Supervised first year graduate students which included developing treatment plans, teaching clinical | | intervention skills, providing oral and written feedback, and assisting students integrate theory with best clinical practice.

2008-Present The Tobin School Natick, MA
Speech-Language Pathologist
• Provide individualized speech and language services to students in pre-kindergarten through fourth grade as well as consultative service to teachers as part of a contract position through my current employer

2011-2012 Weston Public Schools Weston, MA
Speech-Language Pathologist
• Provide individualized and group speech and language services to students in kindergarten through fourth grade for summer IEP services

2008-2011 Children's Occupational Therapy Connection Westwood, MA
Speech-Language Pathologist
• Provided individual speech-language services to children aged 2 to early adolescence and their families in their home environment.
• Caseload included children with a variety of communication disorders

Nov 2008-June 2009 Newton North High School Newton, MA
Mar 2007-June 2007 F.A. Day Middle School Newton, MA
Speech-Language Pathologist
• Provided short-term coverage for school-based speech language pathologists as part of two separate contract positions for my current employer
• Responsibilities included caseload coverage, speech-language evaluations, and participation in Individualized Education Program meetings

ADDITIONAL SUPERVISORY EXPERIENCE

Jan 2011-May 2011 Boston University Natick, MA
May 2009-July 2009 University of Connecticut
May 2008-Aug 2008 Boston University
• Provided graduate student supervision at my current place of employment
• Responsible for teaching graduate students to integrate clinical theory with intervention techniques for successful treatment of a variety of childhood communication disorders
• Taught data collection and writing skills related to daily progress notes, quarterly progress notes, and comprehensive evaluations.

CERTIFICATIONS AND CONTINUING EDUCATION

Massachusetts State Licensure
American Speech Language and Hearing Association Member
Reading with TLC: Level 1 and Level 2 of the Lively Letters Program
PROMPT Introductory Course
Story Grammar Marker through Mindwings Concepts
LADDERS/MGH: Current Trends in Autism
Michelle Garcia Winner: Social Thinking

RELATED EXPERIENCE

Red Flags of Speech and Language Development Presentation	Natick, MA	April 2012
iPod Augmentative Communication Presentation	Natick, MA	March 2010
New England Rehabilitation Hospital, Clinical Internship	Woburn, MA	Jan-May 2006
Children's Therapy Associates, Clinical Internship	Natick, MA	Sept-Dec 2005
Country Day School, Clinical Internship	Newton, MA	Jan-May 2005