Clinical Assistant Professor
Physical Therapy

Nominations and applications are invited for a full-time physical therapy clinical faculty position in the Department of Physical Therapy and Athletic Training at Boston University College of Health and Rehabilitation Sciences: Sargent College. Primary responsibilities include coordinating clinical education experiences, teaching and advising in our Doctor of Physical Therapy program, engaging in scholarly activities, and participation in institutional and professional service activities.

BU Sargent College is part of a vibrant academic and research community that includes 16 schools and colleges across Boston University’s Charles River and Medical campuses, as well as many highly regarded medical and educational institutions in the Boston area. The department of Physical Therapy & Athletic Training believes that the cultural and social diversity of our faculty, staff, and students is vitally important to the distinction and excellence of our research and academic programs. To that, we are especially eager to have a colleague who supports our institutional commitment to ensuring BU is inclusive, equitable, diverse, and a place where all constituents can thrive. The College offers undergraduate, professional, and post-professional degree programs in a wide range of areas including physical therapy, athletic training, health science, human physiology, nutrition, occupational therapy, rehabilitation sciences, and speech, language and hearing sciences.

Minimum qualifications include:

- Professional degree (DPT) and licensure in Physical Therapy, (PhD, ScD or EdD preferred)
- Demonstrated expertise in a clinical specialty (ABPTS certification)
- Experience in education with a strong background in clinical education in the field of physical therapy
- Professional vision consistent with emerging health care patterns and changes in educational requirements of health care professionals

This will be a full-time 9-month position at the Clinical Assistant Professor level. Salary will be commensurate with the candidate’s qualifications.

Interested candidates should send a letter of intent including a statement of clinical and scholarly interests, curriculum vitae, and three references to:
