Email Communication Policy

Regular e-mail is not a secure form of communication. The SCNC uses a secure email service, DataMotion, for all communications. DataMotion requires that each party log-in using a username and password before accessing email messages. If you initiate communication with a provider using unsecure email, we will request that you consent to our usage of unsecure email to communicate with you.

I have read and understand the SCNC Email Communication Policy.

If you would like to communicate with your provider using unsecure email, please indicate your consent below.

I understand that the security of my personal health information may be compromised through the use of unsecure email. I agree to undertake this risk and request that SCNC communicate with me using unsecure email until I explicitly indicate otherwise in writing.
