

Rob Schooley, MSW, LCSW. Rob graduated with his MSW from the University of Illinois in 2004. He currently serves as a Behavior Specialist for the Chatham County Schools where he provides direct services to students to address problematic classroom behaviors that impact students both academically and socially. He is also the Youth Coordinator for Chatham Drug Free, which is a local coalition that aims to prevent alcohol, tobacco and drug use among youth. In his spare time, Rob enjoys spending time working in a local community garden, teaching families to grow their own food utilizing organic and sustainable methods of farming. He has been with BUSSW OLP since January 2012.
