

A child wearing a yellow t-shirt and a grey cap is seen from behind, pointing their right hand towards a world map. The map is rendered in white and light blue against a solid blue background. The child is positioned in the lower right quadrant of the image.

Education Policy in International Perspective (online)

Developed by international expert, Dr. Charles Glenn, AP680 (Education Policy in International Perspective) surveys social, legal, and political issues in education, in the United States and in other countries. Students develop a comparative perspective of some of the issues that educators and policy-makers face. They also discuss and consider the challenges that the international educational community must tackle to improve education for students around the world. This online course is open to any student that holds a Bachelor's degree or the equivalent. Official enrollment in a BU degree program is not necessary.

May 19-August 7, 2009 (Summer Term, 4 cr.)

Instructors: Cara Stillings Candal with Charles Glenn www.bu.edu/summer/ for registration information

Boston University School of Education