Great Leadership Opportunity!

If you're interested in being involved in something new and exciting this year, consider helping us start a first gen student organization. We want to expand our first gen program, and we want you, the students, to have a group to call your own. Starting an organization is a great leadership opportunity and resume booster. The USC will provide you with all the support you need to succeed. The SAO has guidelines on how to create a new student organization. Please email Stephanie at uscgradi@bu.edu for more information.
