Boston University Study Abroad London

Writing in Today’s Britain: Meet the Writer
CAS EN 387

Instructor Information
A. Name Mary Condé

Course Objectives
The aim of this course is the intensive study of some very recent literary texts in conjunction with an investigation of the writing process and the life and career of the writer. It is hoped that all the writers will visit personally.

No prior knowledge is required, but the more widely students can read in contemporary literature in English (from any part of the world), the better prepared they will be, and the more they will enjoy the course.

Course Overview
The course consists of an examination of some recent texts in English including novels, memoirs, a collection of poems, and a play. There are a variety of settings in time and place. Texts will be examined in the context of literary history, but also in terms of the marketplace. When the writers visit, and are interviewed by the students, we shall be able to track the process of publishing a book from the initial inspiration to the finished article to the publicity machine which lies beyond. We shall discuss such issues as: freedom of speech, the role of the literary agent, the role of the editor, writer’s advances, and (last but not least) literary integrity. A major component of the course will be the comparison of writers in terms of literary merit, genre, and the working conditions for each individual.

It is hoped that students will find the experience of meeting the writers exciting in itself, but it should also enrich and inform the detailed analysis of their work in terms of social, national, ethnic and class contexts, and afford an opportunity to debate the relevance of a writer’s intentions to the reader’s response. We shall also consider the arguments against meeting a writer.
Course Methodology

This course will run over 9 four-hour sessions. Each class session will begin with a lecture placing the text in context and drawing on references to other works. Students will be expected to have read the entire assigned text in advance of the appropriate session. Students will contribute class presentations (one each) on some aspect of the text. There will be a general class discussion to which all students are expected to contribute. The writer will then visit the class and be interviewed by a chosen student or students (each of whom will participate in interviewing once per course). There will then be a general Q & A. Since it is courteous to end the class when the writer leaves (impossible only in the case of Martina Evans), each class after the first will usually begin with feedback from the previous class. PLEASE NOTE that not all writers’ visits can be guaranteed. When the writer does not visit, the class will work from supporting materials such as published interviews and personal communications.

Preparation should be intelligently managed, which will often involve reading ahead.

Students are encouraged to make use of specialist academic libraries throughout London. Students will have a session about London libraries as part of their orientation week and will attend inductions to the specialist libraries for which they will receive memberships. Students will also receive information on visiting specialist libraries open to the public.

Assessment:

Class presentation (to be assigned at first class) (20%) (notes to total roughly 500 words)

Summary writing assignment (500 words):
‘Problems inherent in writing a historical novel’ This summary should cover such points as:
- consideration of research
- consideration of historical truthfulness
- consideration of popularity with the reading public
Hand in at start of third session, Mon. 28th January. (10%)

Essay 1 (1,500 words):
‘To what extent do you think a writer should take market forces into consideration?’
Hand in at start of fifth session, Mon. 4th February. (15%)

Interview of a visiting writer (questions to total roughly 500 words) (20%)

Essay 2 (3,000 words):
Students will be asked to produce a 3,000-word essay after consultation on the selection of a topic with the tutor. Selection of a topic will be confirmed with the tutor by Session 6. Students will need to draw on the sources listed in the bibliography at the end of this syllabus. Hand in at start of eighth session, Tues. 12th February. (35%)

Grading

Please refer to the Academic Handbook for detailed grading criteria, attendance requirements and policies on plagiarism: http://www.bu.edu/london/current-semester
Attendance Policy

Classes
All Boston University London Programme students are expected to attend each and every class session, tutorial, and field trip in order to fulfill the required course contact hours and receive course credit. Any student that has been absent from two class sessions (whether authorised or unauthorised) will need to meet with the Directors to discuss their continued participation on the programme.

Authorised Absence:
Students who expect to be absent from any class should notify a member of Academic Affairs and complete an Authorized Absence Approval Form 10 working days in advance of the class date (except in the case of absence due to illness, for which students should submit the Authorised Absence Approval Form with the required doctor’s note as soon as possible).

Please note: Submitting an Authorised Absence Approval Form does not guarantee an authorized absence

Students may apply for an authorised absence only under the following circumstances:
- Illness, supported by a local London doctor’s note (submitted with Authorised Absence Approval Form).
- Important placement event that clashes with a class (verified by internship supervisor)
- Special circumstances which have been approved by the Directors (see note below).

The Directors will only in the most extreme cases (for example, death in close family) allow students to leave the programme early or for a significant break.

Unauthorised Absence:
Any student to miss a class due to an unauthorised absence will receive a 4% grade penalty to their final grade for the course whose class was missed. This grade penalty will be applied by the Academic Affairs office to the final grade at the end of the course. As stated above, any student that has missed two classes will need to meet with the Directors to discuss their participation on the programme as excessive absences may result in a ‘Fail’ in the class and therefore expulsion from the programme.

Course Chronology

Session 1: Monday 21st January
General introduction to course, explanation of the context of the authors and their texts, assignment of presentations/interviews, and discussion of how to conduct an interview. Analysis of poems by Martina Evans.

Session 2: Tuesday 22\textsuperscript{nd} January

Discussion of a poetry collection by a contemporary Irish writer, with visit from Martina Evans. Each student will be assigned a specific poem to analyse.

Reading: Martina Evans, Facing the Public (2009)

Martina Evans’ previous poetry collections include All Alcoholics Are Charmers and Can Dentists Be Trusted? Her novels are Midnight Feast, The Glass Mountain, and No Drinking, No Dancing, No Doctors. She has just completed a long prose poem called Petrol, for which she has won an Arts Council award, and from which she will read extracts.

Session 3: Monday 28\textsuperscript{th} January

HAND IN SUMMARY

Assignment to be handed in at this class: ‘Problems inherent in writing a historical novel’ (500 word summary).

Discussion of a psychological detective story, with visit from Sarah Waters. We shall try to determine the fictional place of the supernatural.

Reading: Sarah Waters, The Little Stranger (2009)

Sarah Waters has been shortlisted several times for our two major literary awards, the Orange Prize and the Booker Prize. Her first four novels have all been filmed.

Session 4: Tuesday 29th January.

Summaries will be returned.

Discussion of a family memoir by Phyllida Law narrated in a series of brief notes and letters, with visit from Phyllida Law. We shall try to establish a better term than ‘family memoir’!

Reading: Phyllida Law, Notes to my Mother-in-Law (2009)

Phyllida Law is a distinguished actor. This is her first published work. She is about to publish a sequel about her mother.

Session 5: Monday 4\textsuperscript{th} February

HAND IN ESSAY 1

Discussion of very controversial play, with visit from Stephen Brown.

Reading: Stephen Brown, Future Me (2007)

Stephen Brown has just completed another very controversial play. He has been commissioned by the National Theatre.
Session 6: Tuesday 5th February. Essays will be returned.

We shall work intensively on essay topics.

Reading: No reading required – but use the time to read ahead!

 Contingency Class Date: Friday 8th February. Students are obligated to keep this date free to attend class should any class dates need to be rescheduled.

Session 7: Monday 11th February

Discussion of a memoir about the significance of cricket, with visit from Michael Simkins.

Reading: Michael Simkins, The Last Flannelled Fool (2011)

Michael Simkins is an actor, and the only reason he might not be able to visit is that he is currently filming for EastEnders, our premier television soap opera. He would be happy to talk about acting and travel journalism as well as his book.

Session 8: Tuesday 12th February

HAND IN 3,000 WORD ESSAY

Discussion of a novel based on a real-life village in India where all the inhabitants are murderers, with visit from Nikita Lalwani.

Reading: Nikita Lalwani, The Village (2012)

Nikita Lalwani’s first novel, Gifted, won the Desmond Elliot Prize for New Fiction. She was born in Rajasthan, but grew up in Cardiff.

Session 9: Friday 15th February PLEASE NOTE THIS IS A FRIDAY

Discussion of a novel which will only just have been published, with visit from Robert Hudson. The book launch will have been the day before!

Reading: Robert Hudson, The Dazzle (2013)

This is Robert Hudson’s second novel. His collection of the love letters between the horses of Napoleon and Wellington has been broadcast: it started life as one of the ‘Tall Tales’ he masterminds regularly at a pub in Kilburn.

NO FINAL EXAM.

Readings

Required reading is noted above in the Course Chronology. It is essential that all students read and reflect upon the relevant reading before each class, and come with written notes on their own critical conclusions.

Martina Evans, Facing the Public (2009)

Supplementary and Secondary Reading:
The following texts are useful for expanding upon the required reading, for researching seminar papers and for preparing for the final examination.

Additional readings may be posted on the course webpage: https://lms.bu.edu (you must be logged in to view materials).
Terms & Conditions

Students are expected to attend punctually, to participate in class, and to hand written work in by the deadline. Failure to attend or failure to comply with the course requirements will result in failure of the course.

Course Bibliography

