SUBJECT: Agenda for Meeting on Wednesday, September 30, 2015

This is a revised agenda for our discussion on Wednesday, September 30, 2015. We will meet at 4:00 PM in CAS 200. Dean Ann Cudd will attend a portion of the meeting to charge the committee for the 2015/2016 academic year.

The following is an overview of the items up for discussion and review:

1. Proposed “Policy on Grade Grievances for Undergraduate Students” (draft). Grading policies of The American Association of University Professors are attached, with highlighting of especially relevant passages.

2. Draft of proposal to CAS Faculty: CAS Faculty Participation in Development and Approval of University-wide Academic Policies. Appended to the proposal are 1) a version of the eDAPP flowchart showing where and how school and college faculties are involved in the process (Appendix A) and 2) a screenshot of Engineering's tool for online polling of their faculty (Appendix B). Also included, for your information, is the agenda for a meeting this summer of associate deans Jeffrey Hughes and Susan Jackson with Faculty Council Chair Steve Brady and Director of the Office of Faculty Governance Samantha Khosla.

3. A request from the Department of English for CAS EN 177 (Introduction to Asian American Literature) to carry Humanities (HU) divisional studies credit (short list). Please refer to the “Divisional Studies Credit” portion (highlighted in yellow) of the New Course Proposal Form.

4. A request from the College of General Studies for CGS HU 425 (Trauma in History, Art, and Religion) to carry Humanities (HU) divisional studies credit (expanded list)

5. Proposal from the Core Curriculum to 1) change the number of current course CAS CC 203 to CC 211, and 2) include CC 211 (when successfully completed in addition to CC 112) on the list of CAS WR 150 equivalents.
