About Boston University

Boston University’s impact extends far beyond Commonwealth Avenue, Kenmore Square, and the Medical Campus. Our students, faculty, and alumni go all around the world to study, research, teach, and become a part of the communities in which they live. BU is the fourth-largest private university in the country today and is a member of the Association of American Universities, an elite organization of the leading research universities in the United States and Canada. As a measure of its global reach, Boston University is currently engaged in more than three hundred separate research, service, and educational programs and projects around the world.

Enduring commitments to teaching, research, global education, and community engagement are the touchstones of Boston University’s proud past and promising future.

In the rich tapestry of Boston University’s history, one thread runs true: quality teaching by an excellent faculty. Students benefit from direct instruction by dedicated professors who are actively engaged in original research and scholarship, as well as from the University’s combination of a strong liberal arts foundation and exceptional professional programs. Many students work closely with faculty mentors to advance the frontiers of human discovery. Opportunities for educators and researchers to collaborate across disciplines leverage the breadth and depth of the University’s program offerings.

Since its founding, Boston University has embraced two principles that have come to define higher education today: a conviction that higher education should be accessible to all, and a belief that the pursuit of learning is enhanced by direct engagement with the community and the world.

Boston University has made a commitment to providing educational opportunity without regard to race, class, sex, or creed from its beginning, and this has led to a number of momentous “firsts”: the first to open all its divisions to women, the first to award a Ph.D. to a woman, the first coeducational medical college in the world. Martin Luther King, Jr., perhaps our most famous alumnus, studied here in the early 1950s, during a period when nearly half of this country’s doctoral degrees earned by African American students in religion and philosophy were awarded by Boston University.

For many at Boston University, a commitment to serving and shaping the world is formed while still a student. The early dream of engagement “in the heart of the city, in the service of the city” has been deeply and abidingly realized in numerous ways: through more than $180 million in scholarships provided to graduates of the Boston Public Schools since 1973 via the Thomas M. Menino Scholarship program and the Community Service Awards program, the University’s twenty-year partnership with the Chelsea Public Schools, and the pioneering merger of the BU Medical Center Hospital and Boston City Hospital. Students and faculty regularly engage in a broad range of both formal and informal community service activities.

Boston University’s academic community reaches near and far. Today, the University’s seventeen schools and colleges enroll more than 33,000 students from all fifty states as well as the District of Columbia, three U.S. territories, and 134 foreign countries. The nation’s first collegiate international exchange program was created here in the nineteenth century. Since then, Boston University’s Study Abroad offerings have grown to include programs in thirty-four cities on six continents. This global emphasis is integrated into the on-campus curriculum, with courses and programs that bring an international perspective to subjects from anthropology to zoology.

Today’s graduates take their place in a long line of alumni whose inclusive and engaged educational experience prepared them to help serve, shape, and improve the world.

An A.S.L. interpreter for guests with hearing impairment will be stationed on the field, in front of the accessible seating area. A large-screen, real-time, open-caption video feed will also be available for the deaf and hard of hearing at this site.

The First Aid Station is located in the Boston University Children’s Center, 32 Harry Agganis Way, adjacent to the stadium. It is staffed by Emergency Medical Technicians. The Lost & Found Counter is in the lobby of the Boston University Police Headquarters, next door to the Children’s Center.
The Metcalf Awards are given annually to one or more of the finalists in the competition for the Cup and Prize for Excellence in Teaching and the Metcalf Awards for Excellence in Teaching. Each winner of the Metcalf Award receives $5,000. As President Robert A. Brown has said, “Teaching is an art. It is the essential function of a university, as it is our mission to mold the next generation of informed citizens and creative thinkers. Boston University is committed to educating students to be reflective, resourceful leaders in an interconnected world. We accomplish this through the work of great teachers, men and women who inspire their students. They encourage exploration, debate, cooperation, the pursuit of the unknown, and discovery; they introduce ancient wisdom and the latest scholarship. The Metcalf Awards recognize and encourage outstanding teaching and thereby support our fundamental mission.”

The Metcalf Medals are conferred upon winners of the Metcalf Cup and Prize for Excellence in Teaching and the Metcalf Awards for Excellence in Teaching. On the back of each medal is engraved the winner’s name; on the front appears a portrait of Dr. Arthur G. B. Metcalf (1908–1997) crafted by the late Dr. John R. Silber, who served as President from 1971 to 1996. Dr. Metcalf, an alumnus, faculty member, and founder and endower of the Metcalf Awards, served on the Board of Trustees from 1956 to 1997 and was the Board’s Chairman from 1976 to 1994, when he became Chairman Emeritus. The Cup and Prize medal is struck in gold, the Award medals in silver.

The Metcalf Cup and Prize for Excellence in Teaching

The Metcalf Cup and $10,000 Prize were created by an endowment gift from the late Dr. Arthur G. B. Metcalf, an alumnus and Trustee of Boston University. Candidates are nominated by students, faculty, or alumni, and finalists are selected by a screening committee of faculty and students. The committee’s recommendation is then forwarded to the University’s president. “The purpose of the prize,” Dr. Metcalf stated at the time of its creation, “is to establish a systematic procedure for the review of the quality of teaching and the identification and advancement of those members of the faculty who excel as teachers, of which this cup is symbolic.”

The Metcalf Awards for Excellence in Teaching

Metcalf Awards are given annually to one or more of the finalists in the competition for the Cup and Prize. Each winner of the Metcalf Award receives $5,000. As President Robert A. Brown has said, “Teaching is an art. It is the essential function of a university, as it is our mission to mold the next generation of informed citizens and creative thinkers. Boston University is committed to educating students to be reflective, resourceful leaders in Janice Furlong is Clinical Associate Professor of Clinical Practice and Human Behavior in the School of Social Work. Her research and teaching focus on treatment of those living with depression, anxiety, and addiction, as well as the integration of new experiential approaches to advance the art of instruction.

Since joining BU in 1998, Professor Furlong’s embrace of individualized learning and immersion in real-world settings has challenged students to reach beyond their textbooks and explore firsthand the human side of the field they’re entering. Through active in-class discussions and field assignments that draw on her own almost four-decade career in clinical practice, Professor Furlong designs her courses with a solitary purpose: the development of knowledgeable mental health professionals capable of excelling in any setting.

Student evaluations of Professor Furlong routinely include words like “engaging,” “creative,” “timely,” and “challenging,” and hail the exceptionally detailed feedback she provides. One student writes, “Her love of teaching, interest in learning, and desire to create a classroom environment in which her students would flourish were contagious.”

Her colleagues are equally complimentary. A member of numerous faculty committees devoted to student learning, curriculum development, and evidence-based practice, Professor Furlong regularly leads teaching seminars and training for mental health clinicians in her School’s Professional Education Program. She has been recognized three times since 2007 with the School of Social Work’s Excellence in Teaching Award, its top prize for instruction, while scores of those she’s taught have themselves moved on to successful careers as clinicians and teachers.

Professor Furlong earned her Bachelor of Arts in Psychology from Duke University and her Master of Social Work from Simmons College School of Social Work. A frequent lecturer and presenter at hospitals and national conferences, she serves as Director of the Certificate in Clinical Social Work and Behavioral Medicine on BU’s Medical Campus, where she’s also taught since 2009.
Binyomin Abrams is Senior Lecturer of Chemistry in the College of Arts & Sciences. His scholarship and mentoring focus on theoretical physical chemistry and the development of novel tools to improve the teaching of chemistry.

In the seven years he has been a member of the faculty, Dr. Abrams has shown that with intellectual rigor and unbridled energy and imagination, even the weightiest scientific concepts can be made understandable and entertaining. Often the first instructor Chemistry majors encounter, he has been commended for pioneering efforts to help incoming freshmen develop into promising young scientists and communicators able to compellingly present their discoveries.

Dr. Abrams’ students praise a teaching approach that’s at once demanding of their very best and exceedingly accessible, with humor-laced lectures and an open-door policy for those striving to grasp new material. In the words of his nominator, Dr. Abrams “has unequivocally demonstrated that he is one of our most innovative, appreciated, and influential teachers; an outstanding student mentor; and a powerful voice for curricular reform and improvement.”

Dr. Abrams’ pursuit of pedagogical innovation has been tireless. A believer in the power of language to enhance understanding, he collaborated with colleagues to launch the BU Chemical Writing Program for students in Intensive Freshman Chemistry to hone research-based writing skills specific to chemistry. Other efforts, from a series of hands-on tutorials to make challenging coursework accessible for first-year students to a “boot camp” in teaching fundamentals for future instructors, are producing similar results: a remarkable fluency and abiding passion for scientific exploration.

Dr. Abrams earned his Bachelor of Science and Master of Science from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute and his doctorate in Theoretical Physical Chemistry from New York University. The author of numerous widely cited papers, talks, and lab manuals, he is a past recipient of the Templeton Prize for Excellence in Student Advising.
Pamela Templer is Associate Professor of Biology in the College of Arts & Sciences. Through her lectures and scholarly research, she bridges multiple disciplines to explore the impact of human activity on terrestrial and aquatic ecosystems.

For nearly a decade, Professor Templer has inspired a new generation of aspiring ecologists by placing students squarely at the center of the science they’re studying and, in turn, sparking a lasting fascination with the natural world and their ability to shape it. A champion of participatory learning, Professor Templer weds spirited discussion with roll-up-your-sleeves fieldwork to transport classes to the ocean’s depths or the forest floor and answer fundamental questions about our environment and its future.

Professor Templer’s colleagues praise a positive and steadfast approach that encourages students to speak freely and press forward to tackle often-challenging material. Her nominator attributes her success to “her contagious enthusiasm for science, her ability to establish a classroom environment that…fosters a free exchange of ideas, and her genuine commitment to addressing the needs of individual students.”

One student puts it succinctly: “How can you not like Professor Templer?”

Those taking Professor Templer’s Biology of Global Change or Forest Ecology courses can expect to get their hands dirty. Whether sampling trees and soils from Harvard Forest, examining water and insects from the Charles River, or collecting air samples from BU rooftops, students gain a firsthand understanding of their subject matter, with many emerging, themselves, as critical thinkers and skilled communicators in climate science and collaborating to publish articles in top journals.

Professor Templer earned her Bachelor of Arts in Environmental Studies and Biology from the University of California, Santa Cruz, and her doctorate in Ecology and Evolutionary Biology from Cornell University. The director of BU’s doctoral Biogeosciences Program, she has received numerous awards for her research, including a National Science Foundation CAREER Grant.
HONORARY DEGREES

Cornell William Brooks is the president and CEO of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), the nation’s oldest, largest, and most widely respected grassroots-based civil rights organization. His life and experience exemplify the NAACP’s mission to secure political, educational, social, and economic equality for all.

A graduate of Head Start and Yale Law School, Mr. Brooks considers himself “a grandson, heir, and beneficiary” of the 1954 landmark decision Brown v. Board of Education. He has worked as a civil rights attorney, social justice advocate, fourth-generation ordained minister, and coalition-builder. He also ran as the Democratic nominee for U.S. Congress for the 10th District of Virginia in 1998, inspired by his grandfather’s example, advocating for public education, affordable health care, and fiscal responsibility.

Prior to joining the NAACP, he led the New Jersey Institute for Social Justice as president and CEO. There he was instrumental in legislation that enabled formerly incarcerated persons to rebuild their lives, helped reduce juvenile detention rates in New Jersey to historic lows, and developed workforce training programs that placed more than 500 low-income residents in higher-wage jobs.

While serving in previous positions with the Federal Communications Commission and the U.S. Department of Justice, Mr. Brooks worked on efforts as varied as promoting small business and media ownership diversity, increased financing for minority- and woman-owned businesses, and settlements for victims of housing discrimination.

In addition to his J.D. from Yale, Mr. Brooks earned a B.A., with honors, in Political Science from Jackson State University and a Master of Divinity from Boston University School of Theology in 1987.

Mr. Brooks, his wife Janice Broome Brooks, and their sons Cornell II and Hamilton are members of Turner Memorial A.M.E. Church in Hyattsville, Maryland.
Transformation has been central to the lives of Allen and Kelli Questrom. As a businessman, Mr. Questrom transformed the retail industry. Through various roles, Mrs. Questrom has helped transform public life. Now, together, they are transforming Boston University.

But it has never been change for its own sake. Rather, the Questroms pursue change where it can make things better.

The Allen & Kelli Questrom Foundation has generously endowed the newly renamed Questrom School of Business—both challenging and empowering it to become greater. Mr. Questrom is a graduate and Trustee of Boston University.

He began his career in 1964, fresh out of Boston University. A BU professor persuaded Mr. Questrom to pursue a training position at Abraham & Straus in New York instead of becoming a ski instructor. He rose rapidly to executive positions. As Chairman and CEO, Mr. Questrom directed successful turnarounds of several major retailers, including Barneys New York, Federated Department Stores, Neiman Marcus and, most dramatically, JCPenney. He is also a former director of Foot Locker, Sotheby’s Holdings, and Wal-Mart.

In 1986, after a successful and influential fashion career at Abraham & Straus, Mademoiselle, and Ralph Lauren, Mrs. Questrom turned her energies to civic and philanthropic pursuits. She advocates for preventive medicine, co-founded the Greater Los Angeles Partnership for the Homeless, and served on the National Board of Directors of Design Industries Foundation Fighting AIDS (DIFFA). Mrs. Questrom also works to support the arts with their foundation, endowing educational programs for museums.

The Questroms have made seven cross-country moves during their marriage. Ten times they renovated and restored architecturally significant homes before moving on. Again, all for the better.

Today, Allen is Senior Advisor of Lee Equity Partners and a Director of the Glazer Family of Companies and The Men’s Wearhouse. Kelli has served as a Trustee of the Aspen Art Museum and the Dallas Museum of Art and, along with her husband, is a member of the National Council of the American Enterprise Institute for Public Policy Research (AEI).
“Jazz,” George Wein says, “was my very first love.” It shows.

An accomplished jazz pianist and pioneer of live music festivals, he produced the first Newport Jazz Festival in 1954, which started the festival era. He co-founded the Newport Folk Festival in 1959, founded the New Orleans Jazz & Heritage Festival in 1970, and has produced and inspired numerous other music festivals over the last half-century.

Mr. Wein was born in 1925 in Boston, Massachusetts, performed as a pianist in his teens, and graduated from Boston University’s College of Liberal Arts in 1950. Later that year, he opened a jazz club, Storyville, which became a Boston hotspot showcasing artists who included Billie Holiday, Louis Armstrong, Charlie Parker, Ella Fitzgerald, and Dave Brubeck.

As a performer, Mr. Wein has recorded several albums and has toured internationally with his group, Newport All-Stars. His autobiography, Myself Among Others: A Life in Music, has also brought him recognition and acclaim.

Philanthropy and the arts hold great importance in his life. He has been involved in establishing the Joyce and George Wein Chair of African American Studies at Boston University, the Alexander Family Endowed Scholarship Fund at Simmons College, and an annual artist prize given through the Studio Museum in Harlem in honor of his late wife, Joyce Alexander Wein.

Through the years he has received numerous honors and awards, including recognition by the Grammy Awards, Presidents Bill Clinton and Jimmy Carter, and the nations of France and Chile. Mr. Wein is a lifetime Honorary Trustee of Carnegie Hall and on the Board of Directors at Jazz at Lincoln Center. In 2012, Mr. Wein was given the Association of Performing Arts Presenters Award of Merit for Achievement for an individual “whose genius, energy, and excellence has defined or redefined an art form.”

At the age of 90, he is both a legend and actively creative in the jazz world.
Meredith Vieira, a 14-time Emmy Award winner, is host and executive producer of The Meredith Vieira Show, a nationally syndicated daytime show produced and distributed by NBCUniversal Domestic TV Distribution. Previously, she co-hosted Today on NBC for seven years.

In 2014, she became the first woman to anchor NBC’s prime time coverage of the Olympic games. As host of Who Wants to Be a Millionaire, she hosted more episodes of a game show than any woman in history.

Born in Providence, Rhode Island, Ms. Vieira graduated from Tufts University in Medford, Massachusetts. She began her journalism career in 1975 as a radio news announcer and quickly moved into television as a reporter for CBS News. During more than a decade at CBS, she rose to become a correspondent on West 57th and co-editor of 60 Minutes, two successful television news magazines. In 1993, she moved to ABC News as chief correspondent of Turning Point, and in 1997 became the first moderator of The View.

She joined NBC in 2006 as co-anchor of Today, special correspondent for NBC News and Sports programming, and later as co-host of the Beijing, Vancouver, London, and Sochi Olympics. She remained with Today until 2013 when she left to pursue several interests that have included the founding of Meredith Vieira Productions, which develops film, television, and theatre projects, and launching her own YouTube channel, LIVES with Meredith Vieira, which explores and champions real women of all ages.

Outside of her professional endeavors, Ms. Vieira is active with several charities. She serves on the Board of Directors of the New York chapter of the Multiple Sclerosis Society and is active with the National Multiple Sclerosis Society, the Alzheimer’s Association, Children’s Miracle Network, Clown Care, and the Pajama Program.

She currently lives in Westchester County, New York, with her three children and her husband of 19 years, best-selling author and journalist Richard Cohen.

Unofficial list of graduates. The actual award of honors at Commencement, reflected on diplomas, is based on students’ final academic averages. Because of publication deadlines, the lists in this book were compiled using Fall 2014 grade point averages and may, therefore, omit the honors of some students who earned them.

Unofficial list of graduates. The actual award of honors at Commencement, reflected on diplomas, is based on students’ final academic averages. Because of publication deadlines, the lists in this book were compiled using Fall 2014 grade point averages and may, therefore, omit the honors of some students who earned them. * †Arvind and Chandan Nandlal Kilachand Honors College Scholar ‡January 2015 graduate §September 2014 graduate ‡Tentative September 2015 graduate

Unofficial list of graduates. The actual award of honors at Commencement, reflected on diplomas, is based on students’ final academic averages. Because of publication deadlines, the lists in this book were compiled using Fall 2014 grade point averages and may, therefore, omit the honors of some students who earned them.

Unofficial list of graduates. The actual award of honors at Commencement, reflected on diplomas, is based on students’ final academic averages. Because of publication deadlines, the lists in this book were compiled using Fall 2014 grade point averages and may, therefore, omit the honors of some students who earned them.

Unofficial list of graduates. The actual award of honors at Commencement, reflected on diplomas, is based on students’ final academic averages. Because of publication deadlines, the lists in this book were compiled using Fall 2014 grade point averages and may, therefore, omit the honors of some students who earned them.

ACADEMIC TRADITIONS

ACADEMIC DRESS: The academic dress worn by today’s graduates reflects a tradition begun in the late twelfth century, when universities were taking form. Originally the dress may have had a practical purpose: to keep the student warm in unheated buildings. Today it is ceremonial. American colleges and universities subscribe to a code of academic dress first adopted in 1895. The Academic Costume Code is divided into three parts: caps, gowns, and hoods.

The traditional cap is the mortarboard, which is worn by our bachelor’s and master’s degree candidates. The colored tassels worn from the mortarboards identify the graduate’s discipline or field of study. Boston University’s doctoral candidates wear an octagonal tam with gold tassels.

The gown for the bachelor’s degree is simple, with open sleeves. The master’s gown has a long, curved extension at the bottom of the sleeve, and is narrow at the wrist. Bachelor’s and master’s gowns are always untrimmed. The more ornate doctoral gown is faced with velvet and features three velvet bars on each sleeve. The velvet is black for all disciplines except law, dentistry, and medicine, which are faced with those fields’ traditional colors: purple, lilac, and green. The sleeves are bell-shaped and billowing.

Bachelor’s candidates at Boston University do not wear hoods as part of their dress. The master’s hood is three and one-half feet in length, and the doctoral hood is four feet with panels on the sides. The lining of the hoods is unique to the university: every university, according to the Academic Costume Code, has a distinct pattern. The Boston University hood is lined with a single white chevron on a scarlet field. The color of the velvet edging of the hood corresponds to the graduate’s field of study. Academic disciplines and associated colors seen at today’s Commencement include:

- Arts, Letters, Humanities—white
- Business, Management—drab
- Dental Medicine—lilac
- Education—light blue
- Engineering—orange
- Fine Arts—brown
- Law—purple
- Medicine—green
- Music—pink
- Philosophy—dark blue
- Physical Therapy—teal
- Public Health—salmon
- Sciences—yellow
- Social Work—citron
- Theology—scarlet

THE ACADEMIC PROCESSION: The University Marshal presides over the Academic Procession, standing at the front of the platform. He raises the mace to signify that Commencement is ready to begin; as he lowers it, the music begins and the graduates begin to march onto the field. The graduates are then followed by the alumni and faculty processions. The platform party follows the faculty; the President is the last person in the procession. At the conclusion of the ceremony, the University Marshal leads the President and the platform party off the field, followed by the faculty and alumni. There is no student procession at the end of Commencement. Graduates and guests are asked to remain in their places until the platform party and faculty have left Nickerson Field.

PRESIDENT’S COLLAR: The collar is a chain of repeating decorative links. Such collars were often worn in the Middle Ages as a badge of office. The Boston University collar, symbolizing the office of the President, is composed of the University seal alternating with the letters BU; a larger seal is suspended from it. The collar was designed in the 1980s by the late Dr. Arthur G. B. Metcalf, alumnus, Associate Founder of the University, and Chairman Emeritus of the Board of Trustees.

MACE: The mace was originally a weapon of war; heavy, often with a spiked metal head, it was designed to damage an opponent’s armor. It has evolved into a symbol of institutional authority. The academic mace, representing the authority of the university, is carried at the front of formal academic processions.

The Boston University mace was also designed in the 1980s by Dr. Metcalf. It is fashioned of sterling silver and has two University seals intertwined on the button end. In today’s ceremony, it is borne by the University Marshal.
