This course covers…

• How to dissect the internal structure of words in languages from all over the world.

• What the structure and shapes of words can teach us about the relationship between phonology and syntax

• How the small-est mean-ing-ful piece-s of words combine to create complex meanings.

Prereq:
CAS LX 250 Introduction to Linguistics

Instructor: Neil Myler
(http://ling.bu.edu/people/myler)

For further information, contact Prof. Neidle: carol@bu.edu