PART-TIME SUMMER INTERNSHIP OPPORTUNITY-- BIOTECHNOLOGY MARKETING

Company Description
Addgene is a non-profit company that facilitates biomedical research and discovery. Addgene assists academic scientists by archiving their plasmid DNA samples and distributing the samples to researchers who need them for future experiments. Availability of these materials is critical to the progress of research.

Learn more about Addgene at www.addgene.org.

Internship Responsibilities
Collect and analyze data on potential depositing scientists and prospective customers using data collection software and our laboratory inventory management system.

Requirements
Addgene is looking for a student who is well organized, detail-oriented, proficient in all Microsoft Office applications, and is looking to gain experience in basic biotech marketing.

Hours
8-10 hours per week, spread between 2 days.

Compensation
$15 per hour

Start Date
Spring/Summer 2010.

Job Location
Addgene is located at One Kendall Square in Cambridge, MA. It is close to MIT, walking distance from the Red Line, and parking is available.

Applications
Please send cover letter and resume to hr@addgene.org or melanie@addgene.org with the title of your email “Marketing Internship.”

Contact
Melanie Herscovitch, Ph.D.
Outreach Scientist
Addgene
1 Kendall Square Ste B6302
Cambridge, MA 02139
(617) 225-9000 X125