Course Objective

An examination of Britain's relations with Europe between 1945 and 1991 in the context of European supranational integration, the evolution of the Cold War, and Britain's on-going desire to maintain a world role.

Course Overview

The course examines Britain's relations with Europe – both west and east – from the end of the Second World War to the signing of the Maastricht Treaty in 1991, the moment when the European Economic Community (EEC) became the European Union (EU). This name-change proved contentious in that it brought about greater political integration and so exacerbated tensions within British domestic politics about national sovereignty and Britain's place in the world. This timeframe also coincided with the Cold War, a global struggle that had European issues at its centre. We will assess how the German problem lay at the heart of not only the Cold War, but also over both tracks of post-1945 European integration: one track was intergovernmental in character and focused overtly on defence (the NATO alliance); the other was supranational and was ostensibly motivated by economic concerns (the European Coal and Steel Community and then the EEC), but also had security as a primary motivation. The role of the United States in these political, economic, and military developments will be an underlying theme throughout.

Course Methodology

The course is taught in nine classes, followed by a written examination lasting two hours. Most classes will begin with a formal presentation after which there is usually a discussion period based on an assigned reading or readings. Two field trips (to the Imperial War Museum and the Churchill Museum) and documentary films will also be used to support student learning. Students are required to attend all sessions and participate in discussions. This aspect will account for 10% of the final grade. A further 10% will be awarded for a presentation based on primary source materials. A 2000-word essay (about 8 typed pages, double-spaced in 12 point font) must be submitted to the lecturer at the start of class 8 (a further 40% of the grade). This will be returned with feedback and a grade at the start of class 9. In the written examination (worth 40%) students must answer two essay-type questions from a selection covering all aspects of the course. No notes will be allowed in the examination room.

Grading

Please refer to the Academic Handbook for detailed grading criteria and policies on plagiarism: <http://www.bu.edu/london/current-semester>

 Final Grades are subject to deductions by the Academic Affairs Office due to unauthorised absences.*

ATTENDANCE POLICIES

Classes

All Boston University London Programme students are expected to attend each and every class session, seminar, and field trip in order to fulfill the required course contact hours and receive course credit. Any student that has been absent from two class sessions (whether authorised or unauthorised) will need to meet with the Directors to discuss their continued participation on the programme.

Authorised Absence:

Students who expect to be absent from any class should notify a member of Academic Affairs and complete an Authorized Absence Approval Form 10 working days in advance of the class date (except in the case of absence due to illness for more than one day. In this situation students should submit the Authorised Absence Approval Form with the required doctor's note as soon as possible). The Authorised Absence Approval Request Form is available from:

<http://www.bu.edu/london/current-semester/>

Please note: Submitting an Authorised Absence Approval Form does not guarantee an authorised absence

Students may apply for an authorised absence only under the following circumstances:

- Illness (first day of sickness): If a student is too ill to attend class, the student must phone the BU London Student Affairs Office (who will in turn contact the student's lecturer).
- Illness (multiple days): If a student is missing more than one class day due to illness, the student must call into to the BU London Student Affairs Office each day the student is ill. Students must also provide the Student Affairs office with a completed Authorised Absence Approval Form and a sick note from a local doctor excusing their absence from class.
- Important placement event that clashes with a class (verified by internship supervisor)
- Special circumstances which have been approved by the Directors (see note below).

The Directors will only in the most extreme cases allow students to leave the programme early or for a significant break.

Unauthorised Absence:

Any student to miss a class due to an unauthorised absence will receive a 4% grade penalty to their final grade for the course whose class was missed.

This grade penalty will be applied by the Academic Affairs office to the final grade at the end of the course. As stated above, any student that has missed two classes will need to meet with the Directors to discuss their participation on the programme as excessive absences may result in a 'Fail' in the class and therefore expulsion from the programme.

Religious Holidays

Boston University's Office of the University Registrar states:

'The University, in scheduling classes on religious holidays and observances, intends that students observing those traditions be given ample opportunity to make up work. Faculty members who wish to observe religious holidays will arrange for another faculty member to meet their classes or for cancelled classes to be rescheduled.'

Lateness

Students arriving more than 15 minutes after the posted class start time will be marked as late. Any student with irregular class attendance (more than two late arrivals to class) will be required to meet with the Associate Director for Academic Affairs and if the lateness continues, may have his/her final grade penalised.
