CAS IR 339
Australia and the Politics of Regional Security in Asia-Pacific

Instructor Name: Dr. Keith Suter
Contact Information: keith.suter@bigpond.com
                             www.global-directions.com
                             61(02) 9358 5847

Contact Hours: Generally prior to or following classes and strictly by arrangement with coordinator.

Course Dates: Meeting twice weekly, 3-4 hour sessions
Course Time & Location: BU Sydney Study Abroad campus, schedule to be decided Course Credits: 4 BU credits

Hub Learning Outcomes
BU Hub Units: One Unit
Capacity: Diversity, Civic Engagement, Global
Area: Global Citizenship and Intercultural Literacy (GCI)

Global Outcome 1
In CAS IR 339 Australia and the Politics of Regional Security in the Asia-Pacific, students study comparative systems of regional security including Australia and USA (primarily). This challenges students beyond their comfort zone whilst also refining their knowledge of the US security system. (See course driven questions in description and course objectives in this syllabus document and the short essay expectations which require reflection on comparative political systems. See also scope for comparison of diverse security systems for major assignment). Whether a student comes from the US or elsewhere, this course introduces elements of International Relations and Security as these apply to global diversity. The course challenges assumptions held by students in relation to security systems around the world, with a focus on the Asia-Pacific Region. Ultimately a study of comparative regional security systems, also extends to gaining knowledge of cultural differences and to societal diversities which enlightens students on the needs for sensitivity towards people from different backgrounds. On successful completion of this course, a student will be able to identify the new security era in Asia Pacific, the options confronting Australia and the US, and will have an understanding of how the region could evolve.
Question-Driven Course Description
This course examines the new era of regional security in the Asia Pacific to understand the public policy implications for Australia and the United States. Students undertaking the course will acquire knowledge to answer the following questions:
(i) what is the new security era?
(ii) what are the options confronting Australia and the United States?
(iii) what are the possible later developments in the region?

Program Learning Outcome
Study Abroad Sydney Program Outcome:
The student will “demonstrate knowledge of Australian culture and society with respect to a combination of the following areas: Australian politics, industry, science and technology, economics, social policy, environmental policy, literature and the arts, film, marketing, advertising, and mass media”.

Course Learning Outcome
On successful completion of this course, a student will be able to identify the new security era in Asia Pacific, the options confronting Australia and the US, and will have an understanding of how the region could evolve.
Instructional Format, Course Pedagogy, and Approach to Learning

For this course, formal lectures, group tutorials and seminar presentations have been organized. Field trip will be undertaken in Sydney to visit defence establishments at Paddington Barracks and Potts Point.

Attendance at all sessions is compulsory.

A great deal of photocopied material will be distributed during the lectures. Australian political documentaries will also be shown each week, followed by a discussion of their contents.

Topics covered

1. New Era of Regional Security what is “security”: national, regional global and human
   the drivers of change

2. Asia and the Pacific on the Global Stage rise or return of Asia
   the Pacific era

3. Australian Foreign and Defence Policy themes in Australian policy
   the domestic sources of Australian policy

4. American Foreign and Defence Policy themes in American policy
   the domestic sources of American policy

5. Regional Flashpoints particular locations, such as the South China Sea particular themes, such as competition for resources

6. How Could the Region Evolve three different ways of thinking about the future global order or global disorder

Assignments and Grading

Assignment topics for both presentations, and short and long papers, are determined anew each semester by the contemporary regional security environment.

Assessment
1. Research Paper 40%
   A research paper of between 2500-3000 words on a topic chosen from the list supplied…
2. Model UN Security Council 15%
   This is a reenactment of an imagined UN Security Council crisis in which students (as representative of their respective countries - chosen early in the course) discuss the crisis and attempt to resolve it.

3. Mid-course Short Paper 15%
   A Short Paper, of about 1,000 words to be submitted.

4. Final Examination 25%
   A two-hour, two question open-book examination will be held. There will be a limited choice of questions, which will be based on the lecture topics.

5. Participation 5%
   All absences must be supported by documentation.

Criteria For Grading

Criteria Weightings for written assessments:

1. Relevance of answer to question 20%
2. Effective use/ relevance of evidence 20%
3. Development of argument 20%
4. Extent of Research 10%
5. Clarity of writing 10%
6. Appropriate tone 5%
7. Grammar, punctuation, spelling, syntax, word choice, proof-reading 5%
8. Referencing (in-text/ footnotes) 5%
9. Bibliography 5%

Model UN Security Council
At the beginning of the course, each student will be allocated a country to represent and so will need to research that country’s position on an imagined crisis that will be discussed at the end of the course.

This will enable each student to understand the limitations under which each country operates at the international level, how countries interact at the UN Security Council, and how decisions get made at the UN Security Council.

Participation in Classes
That students participate in class is significant to the calculation of their grade in this element of the assessment outlined for this course. The degree to which they do so proficiently will determine the value of their score, just as in the other elements of course work evaluation.
(Please see Community and Policies section for details).
Written Assignments
All written work must be submitted punctually on dates specified. Failure to submit written work will be viewed as a failure to meet the requirements specified for the completion of this course. The coordinator is required to adhere to Program policy that no written work will be accepted later than the specified time for submission, in fairness to those students whose work is submitted punctually. Please see the academic director of the program if you have genuine and document-supported reasons.
(Please see Community and Policies section for details).

Examination
A compulsory two-hour examination has been scheduled. Details of the examination date, time and rules will be published separately.

Grading
A 94-100
A- 90-93
B+ 87-89
B 83-86
B- 80-82
C+ 77-79
C 73-76
C- 70-72
D 60-69
F below 60

Books and Other Course Materials

LIST OF RECOMMENDED TEXTS
Alison Broinowski Double Vision: Asian Accounts of Australia, Canberra: Pandanus, 2004
Chalmers Johnson Nemesis: The Last Days of the American Republic, Melbourne; Scribe, 2006
David Kilcullen Counter Insurgency, Melbourne Scribe, 2010
David Kilcullen The Accidental Guerrilla: Fighting Small Wars in the Midst of a Big One, Melbourne: Scribe, 2009
Robert S McNamara Blundering Into Disaster: Surviving the First Century of the Nuclear Age, London: Bloomsbury, 1987
Colin Mason A Short History of Asia, New York: Palgrave Macmillan, 2005
Jeffrey T Richelson and Desmond Ball, The Ties that Bind: Intelligence Cooperation Between the UKUSA Countries, Sydney: Unwin Hyman, 1990

Internet:
Australian Broadcasting Corporation (ABC): www.abc.net.au/iview
Australian Institute for International Affairs: www.internationalaffairs.org.au
Australian Strategic Policy Institute: www.aspi.org.au
Centre for Independent Studies: www.cis.org.au
Global Directions: www.global-directions.com
Inside Story, Swinburne Institute for Social Research: www.inside.org.au
Kurzweil Accelerating Intelligence www.kurzweilai.net
Lowy Institute www.lowyinstitute.org
The Conversation www.theconversation.edu.au
The City of Sydney has an excellent Library network (with branches near BU) and so students are encouraged the use that network.

The above list should be considered by no means exhaustive and merely represents a cross-section of available material. Students are encouraged to extend their research and reading range to meet the needs of their own topics of exploration.

Courseware
Readings and other materials will be posted on Blackboard at learn.bu.edu

Resources/Support/How to Succeed in This Course:
There is the opportunity of students meeting professors face-to-face either ahead of or following class times; students can also make contact for longer meeting times via email or submit questions via email.

The most effective way to succeed in this course is to keep reading along the time line of required readings.

Being prepared for each scheduled class will mean students gain more from lectures and interactive class discussions. Time management is crucial to such success, as is an open and enquiring mind.
There is also ample material on the BU learn site for students to expand their contextual knowledge of set texts and the BU Sydney library has books and visual material for research.

Professors are notified of students with documented disabilities or special needs ahead of first classes and offer assistance to these students in line with BU policy, which is also BU Sydney policy.

Community of Learning: Class and University Policies

Course Matters

Attendance at all classes is mandatory.
Any absence for medical reasons or other misadventure must be supported by a medical certificate or a letter offering a satisfactory explanation. Strict penalties apply, on a pro rata basis, for any unapproved absence. Missing one class without reason would attract as much as a 10% penalty.

Statement on Plagiarism
All students are responsible for having read the Boston University statement on plagiarism, which is available in the Academic Conduct Code. Students are advised that the penalty against students on a Boston University program for cheating on examinations or for plagiarism may be “… expulsion from the program or the University or such other penalty as may be recommended by the Committee on Student Academic Conduct, subject to approval by the Dean”.

Late Work
In general, there will be no extensions granted for any coursework. The exception is where there are clear and acceptable reasons for late submission. In this case a written statement outlining any serious illness or misadventure together with supporting documentation (e.g. medical certificates) must be provided or a strict penalty of 5% per day will apply.

Outline of Class Meetings: Date, Topic, Readings Due, Assignments Due

Week 1. New Era of Regional Security

Class 1 – What is “security”: national, regional, global and human

Required Readings:

Class 2 – The drivers of change
Required Readings:

Week 2. Asia and the Pacific on the Global Stage

Class 3 – Rise or return of Asia

Required Readings:

Class 4 – The Pacific era

Required Readings:

Bisley, N. 2013, ‘An ally for all the years to come’: why Australia is not a conflicted US ally’, Australian Journal of International Affairs, vol. 67, no. 4, pp. 403-418.

Week 3.  Australian Foreign and Defence Policy

Class 5 – Themes in Australian policy

Required Readings:

Class 6 – The domestic sources of Australian policy

Required Readings:

Week 4.  Classes 7 and 8, one daylong field trip to defence establishments

Week 5.  American Foreign and Defence Policy

Class 9 – Themes in American policy

Required Readings:

Class 10 – The domestic sources of American policy

Required Readings:

Week 6. Regional Flashpoints

Class 11 – Particular locations, such as the South China Sea

Required Readings:

Class 12 – Particular themes, such as competition for resources

Required Readings:

Week 7. How Could the Region Evolve?

Class 13 – Three different ways of thinking about the future

Required Readings:

Class 14 – Global order or global disorder

Required Readings:

Additional reading:

Kilcullen 2016, Blood Year, Black Inc, Carlton, VIC.

