

AN 390/AA 400

SLAVERY AND THE

IN-BETWEEN

TUES/THURS 3:30 – 4:45 PM

STH 625

This course examines the space between freedom and enslavement known as recaptivity. Course discussions will focus on historical and social conceptions of freedom, and how these conceptions relate to recaptive status.

We will review recaptivity contexts documented in both the historical and archaeological record. We will also examine the theme of return in recaptives' journeys and the contemporary journeys of Afro-descendants to the African continent.

PROF. ANDREE CUNNINGHAM

THIS COURSE COMPLEMENTS ANTHROPOLOGICAL TRAINING IN TOPICS OF RACE/RACISM AND IDENTITY AND COURSEWORK IN AFRICAN AMERICAN & BLACK DIASPORA STUDIES, BUT IT IS OPEN TO UNDERGRADUATE STUDENTS IN ANY FIELD.