

The American Conversation Series 2013-14
CULTURAL POLITICS * POLITICAL CULTURE

Shrieks, Outcries, and Fainting Boys: Homosexuality and the U.S. Cultural Front

Aaron Lecklider, Assistant Professor of American Studies, University of Massachusetts Boston

Aaron Lecklider's presentation explores the complicated relationship between homosexuality and the left in American culture between 1920 and 1960. Foregrounding the cultural left -- literature, performance, print culture, and the arts -- Lecklider's talk draws on research completed for his forthcoming book, Love's Next Meeting: Homosexuality and the Left in American Culture (University of Chicago Press).

Thursday, October 10th, 2013
5:30 PM

CAS 200, 725 Commonwealth Avenue

Free and open to the public * Refreshments to follow

For further information, please contact rabeau@bu.edu or visit www.bu.edu/amnesp

The American Conversation Series is supported by the Boston University Center for the Humanities.