3 What's Up With Energy Prices?

CONFERENCE AUDITORIUM, GEORGE SHERMAN
UNION, 775 COMMONWEALTH AVENUE, 2ND FLOOR

U.S. energy history is a sequence of transitions—wood to coal, coal to oil and gas—driven by shifts in technology, cost, and resource availability, each reshaping the economy and geopolitics. How will the current oil price crisis affect the transition to a cleaner, more equitable energy system? Join Cutler Cleveland, Professor of Earth and Environment for this classroom experience.

4 The Geometry of Machine Learning

TERRACE LOUNGE, GEORGE SHERMAN UNION
775 COMMONWEALTH AVENUE, 2ND FLOOR

Join Andrew Wood, Lecturer in computer science, for a discussion on machine learning. Decisions are formally described as geometric patterns, and learning to make decisions (e.g. machine learning)
is therefore formalized as describing programs
which can discover and represent those patterns.
Dig into this fascinating topic with Dr. Wood.

11:00 a.m. Students choose one of the following:

1 Academic Opportunities in CAS

3 The Hidden Life of Caribbean Corals

CONFERENCE AUDITORIUM, GEORGE SHERMAN
UNION, 775 COMMONWEALTH AVENUE, 2ND FLOOR

Join John Finnerty, Associate Professor of biology, for a classroom experience featuring content from two of BU's experiential research-based courses— "Marine Genomics" and "Tropical Marine Invertebrates". He will present novel research findings generated by BU undergraduates on Caribbean corals that thrive in the dark and mysterious mangroves of Belize.

4 Pandemic! Is Diplomacy the Answer?

TERRACE LOUNGE, GEORGE SHERMAN UNION
775 COMMONWEALTH AVENUE, 2ND FLOOR

Ambassador Mark Storella (Ret.), Professor of the Practice of Diplomacy, will dissect global health diplomatic issues to assess if effective diplomacy might be the best defense against future pandemics. Storella is a former U.S. ambassador, Deputy Permanent Representative to the UN in Geneva and Dean of the State Department's leadership school, with extensive experience in global health in Geneva, Washington and Africa.
